WASHINGTON, July 21, 1869.

TREASURY CIRCULAR.

The following has been issued:

Treasury Department, July 21, 1869.—Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of the Treasury, by authority of law, has adopted distinctive paper, which will be hereafter used, until otherwise ordered, for all obligations and other securities of the United States. One of its peculiarities is the introduction of colored silk, cotton and other fibrous material into the paper while in process of manufacture. By law it is a felony for any person to have or retain in his custody or possession any paper adapted to making of any such obligations or securities, and similar to that designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, except under the authority of the Secretary or some other proper officer of the United States, and any person offending against the statute will, on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment and confinement at hard labor not exceeding fifteen years, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

[Signed,] GEO. S. BOUTWELL, Secretary of Treasury.

INCOME TAX.

The information at the Internal Revenue Bureau from New York, is of an encouraging character, so far as the collection of income tax is concerned. It appears that Assessors and Collectors find the business of the year in this respect, which they had supposed finished, almost as active as ever. The number of gentlemen who find that they now have taxable incomes, and who are desirous to pay income tax, is now being counted by thousands.

THE NEW CABLE.

As erroneous and contradictory statements have recently been published, it can confidently be repeated that there will be no interference with the landing of the French cable, the Government having been furnished with a pledge in writing by the agents of the Company, that it will conform to whatever terms Congress may prescribe in the premises. No authority, however, has been given for the landing of the cable.

PLACED IN AN ASYLUM.

Mattie Gaines, colored, who killed her white paramour Ingle, but who was yesterday acquitted of the charge of murder on a plea of insanity, has been placed in an insane asylum.

RETURNED.

Commissioner Delano has returned to Washington after several weeks' absence.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

Fears of a Rebellion—Outrages on Foreigners—Ex-Confederate Cruiser Wrecked, &c., &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—Pekin advices state that the great north and south gates of the inner city, which are situated near the imperial residence, are undergoing extensive repairs.

Slight showers of rain have fallen, but not sufficiently copious to improve the now desperate condition of the crops.

The gas works established at Pekin College have proved a failure.

Great excitement prevails at Foo Chow and the cities on the Grand Canal. The prospects are that there will be a formidable rebellion. A letter was found giving the particulars of the conspiracy for the capture of Foo Chow, Hooping, Hu Chow, Hong Kow and Shanghai. The conspirators are reported to number fifty thousand, chiefly Canton and Wingha disbanded braves. Some of the very leaders and numbers of others sought Shanghai. Numbers of the people at Foo Chow are fleeing to Hong Kow for protection, dreading another rebellion.

Another outrage was committed on foreigners near Hong Kow, the British Consul and wife being among the party attacked. The matter will soon be brought to the notice of the Chinese government, which promises an investigation into the affair. The inhabitants of Ganchal Formosa have resisted the efforts of the new General in-Chief to capture the pirates. Reinforcements were called in, and the place nominally surrendered. While the English gunboat Oppossum was at Ishuna, placards were posted on the gates offering a reward for the murderers of foreigners and the destruction of their steamers.

The American hospital at Hongue, established through the donation of a Philadelphia lady, has commenced successful operations.

The steamship Hays Mara, formerly the Confederate cruiser Tallahasse, was totally wrecked on Plymouth, near Yokohoma, June 17th. Twenty-two lives were lost, including Capt. Maury, the crew and most of the passengers. On receipt of the news at Yokohoma, assistance was immediately dispatched to the scene of the disaster, but not a vestige of the wreck was visible, the vessel having sunk in forty fathoms of water.

It is rumored the Mikado is preparing to leave Yeddo, to avoid receiving the Duke of Edinburg's Embassy, which is about leaving for the Sandwich Islands, the Mikado having delegated two Vice Ministers of Foreign Affairs for that purpose.

The French corvette Duplexion sailed on June 19th for France. The French midshipmen captured by the Imperialists were brought to Yeddo and surrendered to the French Minister, and with a French officer, formerly in the service of the rebels at Hokadadi, were sent to Sargon on the Duplexion.

Parliament was still in session at Yeddo. Its action is anxiously awaited by both natives and foreigners.

The Japan Gazette says: The position of foreigners may be estimated by the condition of trade. Except for trade, Dai Niaphon might still remain closed to imports. To say trade is dull is a mild way of putting the utter stagnation it has reached, and its stoppage is due solely to the bad faith of the government.

ECCLESIASTICAL COURT.

Trial of Rev. C. E. Cheney, of the Episcopal Church, at Chicago, for Violation of Church Rules.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—The trial by an Ecclesiastical Court of Rev. Charles Edward Cheney, Rector of Christ Episcopal Church, for alleged unauthorized omission in the baptismal rite for children, was commenced at ten o'clock this morning, in the Cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul, corner of West Washington and Peoria streets. The case has excited a high degree of attention all over the country, as involving very important principles of church polity as well as spiritual liberty, and in the principles involved in the issue it is regarded with even more interest than the famous Tyng trial. The specific charge against Mr. Cheney is, that in the baptismal rite he omits the word "regenerate."

At the hour named for the commencement of the trial the Cathedral was nearly filled, mostly by ladies, who seemed to take a lively interest in the issue. The Board of Assessors, who were invited by Bishop Whitehouse, and will receive the testimony and decide the case, are: Rev. Dr. Chase, of Jubilee College, Rev. Dr. Pierce, of Springfield, Rev. T. W. Benedict, of Robin's Nest, Rev. J. Benson, of Peru, Rev. A. W. Snyder, of Chicago. Hon. L. B. Otis acts as counsel for the presentors, and Hon. M. W. Fuller, assisted by Messrs. M. B. Rich and George W. Thompson, defends Mr. Cheney. Rev. Dr. Chase presides. Bishop Whitehouse occupies a chair in the aisle of the Cathedral, where he can command a view of the whole court. He takes no part in its proceedings.

After prayers, Judge Otis said the Court was organized.

Mr. Cheney said: My advocates are Messrs. Fuller, Thompson and Rich.

Mr. Chase then stated that the qualifications of advocates would be that they were communicants of the church. Counsel were declared thus qualified.

Judge Otis then read the presentment. It is quite a long document. The charges are:

First—Violation of article 8th of the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church, which provides, in substance, that a book of common prayer, administration of the sacraments, and other ceremonies, when established by the general convention, shall be used in the Protestant Episcopal Church, in those Dioceses which shall have adopted said Constitution. No alteration shall be made in the book of common prayer, or other offices of the church, unless the same shall be proposed in one general convention, and by a resolve thereof made known to the convention of every diocese, and adopted at the subsequent general convention: and it is averred that the general convention of said Church has established and set forth a book of common prayer, administration of the sacrament, and other rules and ceremonies of the Church, to wit, in the year 1789; and it is also averred that the Diocese of Illinois has acceded to and adopted said Constitution, to wit, more than thirty years prior to this date.

Second—Violation of his engagement to conform to the doctrines and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, contained in the declaration which was subscribed by him before and as an absolute condition preliminary to his ordination as a minister in said Church, as prescribed and set forth in article seven of the Constitution, adopted in general convention of said Church, and which declaration is as follows: "I do believe the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the Word of God, and do contain all things necessary to salvation, and do solemnly engage to conform to the doctrines and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States."

Third—Violation of the solemn promise and vow made by him at his ordination, which was in substance as follows: "Question by the Bishop—Will you then give your faithful diligence always so to minister the doctrines and the discipline of Christ as the Lord hath commanded, and as this church hath received the same, according to the commandments of God, so that you may teach the people committed to your care and charge with all diligence to keep and observe the same?" "Answer—I will do so by the help of the Lord."

Each of these charges is supported by three specifications.

Mr. Thompson then addressed the President, and said as the paper presented is intimately connected with the case, he would like time to look over it. He had objections to offer to it. In the meantime he would ask if the eight commissioners were present. He desired that the trial would be conducted impartially and he wanted to examine the commissioners upon the point.

President Chase said he understood the idea of the gentleman. As the objection came outside of the canon, it would not be listened to.

Mr. Fuller said his associate presented no objection. He merely desired to know if they would be examined. Inasmuch as the presiding officer has ordered against the matter, he would file a written protest to this objection. It was of the utmost importance that the tribunal that tries him should be impartial, but the accused shall be satisfied that they are impartial. The accused has heard that one of the assessors was prejudiced against him and that he was present.

The objection or protest is as follows: "Diocese of Illinois. In the matter of the presentment of Geo. F. Cushman, D. D., Richard F. Sweet, D. D., and L. B. Otis, versus Rev. Charles Edward Cheney. To Rev. Samuel Chase, D. D., Rev. Thomas W. Benedict, Rev. Jno Benson, Rev. Henry N. Pierce, D. D., and Rev. A. W. Snyder.

"Charles Edward Cheney, the accused in the alleged presentment aforesaid, not admitting the charges and specifications in said alleged presentment contained are therein well and sufficiently stated and set forth, nor that the same or any or either of them are or is true, nor that the citation issued thereon is sufficient in form or substance, nevertheless, by way of objection and protest, says that cognizance of the evil alleged in the presentment, the charges and specifications, matters and things therein, cannot be taken by Rev. Samuel Chase, D. D., Rev. Thomas W. Benedict, Rev. John Benson, Rev. Henry N. Pierce, D. D., and Rev. A. W. Snyder, who, now and here appearing, claim as a Court so to do, upon the grounds severally assigned following to wit:

"First—Because eight Presbyters, canonically qualified to act as assessors in the premises, have not presented themselves and are not present at this, the return day of the citation issued herein, at the time and place therein specified, for the selection therefrom by the accused of not less than three nor more than five to act as assessors as aforesaid.

"Second—Because the said, the Rev. Samuel Chase, D. D., Rev. Thomas W. Benedict, Rev. John Benson and Rev. A. W. Snyder, decline to be examined by or on behalf of the accused, touching their qualifications to sit as assessors constituting the court for the trial of the presentment herein, in respect to the formation or expression by either of them of an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused in the premises.

"Third—Because the said Rev. A. W. Snyder has formed and expressed the opinion that the accused is guilty in the premises, and he is, therefore, incompetent to sit as an assessor on the trial of said alleged presentment.

"Fourth—Because no list of eight Presbyters qualified to sit upon the trial of said presentment has been furnished to accused, out of which to select assessors, as by canon provided.

"For which several reasons, one or some of them, the accused insists that the said Rev. Samuel Chase, D. D., Rev. Thomas W. Benedict, Rev. John Benson, Rev. Henry N. Pierce, D. D., and Rev. A. W. Snyder ought not to act as assessors, constituting a court in the premises, and cannot lawfully proceed so to do."

Mr. Fuller went on to say: Before proceeding further they should find by what principles and rules such a trial should be carried on. In the trial of a Bishop the rules of common law should obtain, and such from analogy should be the case with a Presbyter. In the trial of Bishop Onderdonk, Bishop Hopkins gave in extenso his views why the principles of common law should be brought in.

Mr. Fuller then read from the Onderdonk trial the opinion of Bishop Hopkins: "The right of challenge is a common law practice, particularly for cause. It is the same in military courts, in the largest and most liberal manner. In the common law challenges were of two kinds."

Mr. Fuller then went on to show the number of challenges allowed. There were four kinds, of which that of challenges by reason of bias or prejudice was one; peremptory challenges were allowed that the accused might throw out such jurors as he thought prejudiced against him. Mr. Fuller said: Now examine the canon. There is nothing that cuts the accused off from this right. These points Mr. Fuller presented at some length.

Judge Otis replied that the right of challenge was a great right; but this was a special court, provided by the canon, and must be governed by common law. His answer to the claim of the right of challenge is, that the church has made no provision for this, and they did not dare to establish a precedent. The clergymen are competent to try their peers. The principle of the common law has not been introduced into ecclesiastical examinations, but after the Court is organized it shall be conducted according to the rules of common law.

Mr. Thompson read from the canon the manner in which the accused can be presented for trial, and said the presentment did not come under any of the ways in which a minister should be presented—first, the presentment of a majority of the vestry; second, from three presbyters; or third, from public rumor. He went on further to show that the presentment was informal and not legal.

Judge Otis replied briefly, that the Bishop did not inform them under which one of the methods the commission was given, and to them it was no matter.

The Court then adjourned until half-past two o'clock this afternoon.

The trial was resumed at half past two o'clock.

Mr. Thomrson presented exceptions to the commission appointing the presenters to prefer charges. These exceptions were argued and overruled.

Mr. Fuller then presented exceptions to the citation and presentment. These were also argued and overruled.

Mr. Fuller then made a motion, based on the exceptions, in the nature of a motion to quash the presentment, his grounds for so doing, being, First, That they lacked precision as to time, place and circumstances; Second, That in view of the canon they charge no offence or misconduct for which the accused was liable to be tried; Third, That if it is a presentment, it is found upon an imputation arising from public rumor, and that the charges are under section first of article thirty-seven, general canon, which does not provide for open presentment, based upon public rumor, but on complaint of three presbyters, or a majority of the vestry; Fourth, That the specifications enlarge the charges, they being an alteration of the prayer book, while the specifications show no such alteration, but only the omission of a word in the office of the administration of the offices and rites of the Church. These objections were argued at considerable length and held over for advisement.

Adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow.

The Constitutional Crisis in England—The House of Lords Refuse to Recede from Amendments to the Church Disestablishment Bill—Spirit of the Press on the Subject—Exciting Scene in the House of Commons—Probable Prorogation of Parliament.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, July 21.—In the House of Commons last evening, William Johnson, member for Belfast, complained of the conduct of the police in the recent anniversary. He said there had been a rigid enforcement of the party processions act in Ulster, while it had been systematically violated in the south of Ireland.

Right Hon. Chichester Fortesque, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, praised the forbearance and order exhibited on that occasion, through the precautions taken by the Government. He hoped, however, that the observance of the 12th of July would soon discontinue throughout the land.

John Vance, member for Armagh, urged the repeal of the party processions act.

In the House of Lords, last night, the Irish Church bill, as returned from the House of Commons, was taken up.

Earl Granville complimented the House of Lords on the ability and statesmanship developed in the late debate, and the moderation shown by the opposition towards its close. The Government thought some of their amendments were good, some bad, and others quite inadmissible. He did not consider the House of Commons had dealt supercilliously or contemptuously with them, for out of sixty amendments only thirteen had been absolutely rejected. He analyzed the amendments having the effect to reendow what the bill intended to disendow, and said concurrent endowment, notwithstanding the ability with which it had been supported, the Government was obliged to consider a breach of faith with their constituents, while an overwhelming majority of the House of Commons and public opinion were opposed to it. In respect to the disposal of the surplus fund, the more he saw and heard the more he was convinced that it was disadvantageous to keep the question open, and he contended the proposal to keep three millions dangling before the people would excite and stimulate agitation. He urged the House not to adhere to this amendment, and proposed the reinsertion of the words struck out of the preamble of the original bill.

Lord Cairns complained in strong terms that the Government had not adhered to Earl Granville's pledges, that the Lords' amendments would be respectfully considered, for on the faith of this promise many who objected to the bill on its own merits, were induced to vote for a second reading. Mr. Gladstone had used language unworthy of himself and of his position. He contended that of the amendments which had been rejected, all except two had been disposed of without the slightest consideration. The modifications made in the other amendments were utterly illusory and unsatisfactory. He hoped the House would insist on the reservation of the surplus for future disposition, and on the amendments with respect to curates and commutation of life interests. The remaining amendments, being of minor importance, they might give up, in order not to provoke needlessly a collision between the two Houses.

Earl Kimberly said the Government could not give way.

Earl Grey thought the words of the original preamble were offensive to the religious majority of Ireland, and urged the Government to concur in the amendment. If the bill fell on account of its refusal to yield this point, it would be the fault of the Government.

Lords Halifax, Claney, Carde and Shaftesbury supported the government.

Earl Russell favored disestablishment and disendowment, subject to existing rights. He thought the words in the preamble unnecessary and impolitic. If the real object of the bill was to be declared, it should state that the decision of the last election was against church disestablishment, those of England and Scotland as well as that of Ireland, and the existence of the Irish Church ought to be made a direct issue. He believed the preamble was capable of any interpretation. He thought the grant of glebes to all denominations was the wisest plan for establishing religious equality. He declared that he would feel obliged to vote against the Government on the question of the preamble. Should the bill fail to pass, the Government would only have itself to blame. He thought they ought to reciprocate the conciliatory disposition manifested by Lord Cairns.

The Duke of Argyle denied that the government desired to provoke a collision between the Houses of Parliament. He denounced concurrent endowment and defended the provisions of the bill as not only just, but generous.

The Marquis of Salisbury reproached the Government party for its change of opinion with respect to disestablishment and disendowment. Before taking office it held them to be distinct matters. Now it urged that they were bound together indissolubly. He believed the adoption of concurrent endowment would have been wise and statesmanlike. He opposed the preamble and appropriation of surplus as a false and foolish effort of the Government to bind future Parliaments. The Government wished to guard against the employment of the surplus for religions purposes. He insisted that the Lords had a clear and well defined duty to perform to themselves in this matter. In resisting the demands of the Government, they were not resisting the verdict of the country, but the will of a single individual. They had exhausted all efforts at conciliation and compromise. To give way now would be a sacrifice of the independence of the Peers as well as the Church.

Earl Granville protested against the language applied to the Government, and appealed to the Lords to support the Government in this grave and critical moment.

The House then divided on the motion of Earl Granville to restore the preamble, with the following result: For the motion 95, against it 173—majority against the Government 78.

Earl Granville moved an adjournment, in order that he might consult his colleagues, and at a late hour the House adjourned.

A short time after the division against the Government in the House of Lords had been declared, Mr. Gladstone entered the House of Commons. His appearance was the signal for a remarkable outburst of enthusiasm. Cheer after cheer came from the Liberal side of the House, and the business of the session was entirely suspended. It was some minutes before the excitement subsided and the House resumed its proceedings.

The press to-day is occupied with the subject of the vote in the House of Lords. The Times is satisfied the bill may be carried this session, if the principal agents on both sides divest themselves of the passions and prejudices by which they are inflamed. The imminent peril is that the heat of party will be carried into the Cabinet, and a hasty resolution be taken to defer progress on the bill until another session, to the distraction of the country and the immeasurable peril of the Church.

The Star says the Lords have rushed upon the certain consequences of defying the national will. The division of last night has revealed the spirit in which the bill has been opposed from the first.

The Telegraph thinks the Lords have virtually settled the fate of the bill for this session of Parliament. A new bill will be presented, more stringent in form, and it must be accepted. If anything was needed to damage the Church and arouse the country to passionate resistance, the reckless debate of yesterday has furnished it. The country has reached a great crisis. The nature of the course which the Ministers should adopt admits of no doubt.

The News considers the country in the midst of a constitutional crisis. The Lords, giving full swing to their reckless impulses, have rushed into collision with the Government, the Commons and the country. The duties and responsibilities of the situation should be weighed by the Minister with the calmness and confidence of a man sure of an ultimate and speedy victory. The bill, when presented at the autumn session, will become a law with great speed. The Lords will not require the threat of the creation of new Peers to lead them to assent to a more stringent measure. They will not be allowed to oppose themselves a third time to the will of the nation. The country must decide whether an irresponsible debating society is to be allowed to interpose between it and its deliberate purposes and convictions constitutionally expressed.

In the House of Commons to-night there was a full attendance of members. A petition praying for the rejection of amendments to the Irish Church bill was presented and received with loud cheers.

Mr. Milbank, member for North Riding of Yorkshire, wanted to know if it was competent for this House to demand an apology from the House of Peers for the language used by their Lordships, insolent to the Premier and insulting to the dignity of the House of Commons.

The Speaker declared that the question was neither a point of order nor one of privilege. This House was not cognizant of what passed in the House of Lords, and he decided that the question could not be entertained.

Meetings in favor of the disestablishment of the Irish Church continue to be held in various parts of the country.

In the case of Bishop Colensi, of Natal, the Privy Council has decided he has a full right to the Cathedral at Pietromaritzburg, and is altogether free from the interference of Capetown authorities.

LONDON, July 21—Midnight.—It is rumored to night that Mr. Gladstone will withdraw the Irish Church bill, and as soon as supplies have been voted, will prorogue Parliament, in order to introduce a bill at the autumn session under circumstances which will cause the Lords to hesitate before rejecting it.

DUBLIN, July 21.—The High Sheriff of Queens county, who was shot by a roadside assassin, will recover from his wounds, the physician reporting that his case is progressing favorably. Two persons have been arrested in connection with the affair.

FRANCE.

PARIS, July 21.—The Corps Legislatif will meet on the 26th of October.

The Deputies of the Left in the Corps Legislatif intended to issue a manifest calling on France to insist on judgment over recent events. The Tiers party have resolved to persist in keeping before the Chamber the ideas and principles of their proposed interpellation.

Virginia Election—Official.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, July 21.—The official returns show the vote for Walker was 26,000 short of white registration, and that for Wells 18,000 short of colored registration. The objectionable clauses in the constitution were defeated by 40,000. There appears to have been an entirely new deal in politics, as only six members of the elected Legislature have ever been there before.

Thos. R. Bowden, State Attorney General, resigned to-day.

CINCINNATI.

The Weather—Colored Banquet—Exposition of Textile Fabrics.

CINCINNATI, July 21.—Cloudless; mercury 77 at noon.

At the house of Peter H. Clark, colored, of this city, under the auspices of the Clark Literary Society, a banquet was given to Senators Pinchbeck and Antoine, of Louisiana, and Alexander Barbour, Warden of the Port of New Orleans. Prof. Langston and Rev. John G. Fee were present. There were toasts and speeches. The guests were principally colored.

The exposition of textile fabrics, to be held here August 3d, begins to create great interest. Goods are arriving in liberal quantities from the south and west, and as the elegant stores of Mr. Linton have been offered gratuitously, gentlemen having the exposition in charge are prepared to display with great effect samples received. The exhibition will include cassimeres, flannels, jeans, tweeds, blankets, carpets, burlaps, sheetings, yarns of all kinds, many kinds of cotton and woolen machinery, spun silk, flax and hemp, bagging, and from the responses received, from the South especially, the enterprise seems assured of success. The railroad companies throughout the entire West offer a liberal deduction in freight charges, and regular visitors will be returned free. The Adams and United States Express Companies will bring any packages free of charge. Five thousand dollars is offered in premiums.

CHICAGO.

Canal Contract Awarded—Fall of a Building—Admiral Farragut.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—The Illinois Canal Commissioners, to-day, in accordance with their advertisement, opened the bids for the construction of a lock and dam on the Illinois river at Henry, Ills. The highest bidder was A. A. McDowell, of Chicago, $511,115; the lowest, Millard Johnson, of Fulton, $363,121. There were eight other bids, ranging between the extreme figures named. Mr. Johnson will be awarded the work. His bid is about fifteen thousand dollars higher than the estimate of Col. Gooding, and over one thousand dollars higher than Col. Jennes' estimate.

About one o'clock this afternoon a large wooden building, on the corner of West Randolph and Sheldon streets, fell with a terrible crash. Some forty men were employed in and about the building, but only three or four were buried in the ruins and all were finally extricated without serious hurts, with the single exception of a man named Southerland, whom it is feared is fatally injured. The building was formerly a market house and was being transformed into a dwelling. The accident was caused by the unworkmanlike manner in which the job was being done.

Admiral Farragut and family arrived in this city this morning, and left this afternoon for California.

Dartmouth College Centennial.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HANOVER, N. H., July 21.—The Centennial of Dartmouth College has been celebrated here to-day with great spirit and enthusiasm. The occasion has gathered together from all parts of this country, and even from beyond the sea, a great multitude of Alumni, and the day has been spent most delightfully in public exercises, in exchange of fraternal greetings and renewal of old friendships. Chief Justice Chase, the President of the Alumni Association, occupied the chair. President Smith delivered a very appropriate address of welcome. President Brown, of Hamilton College, then read an exceedingly interesting and valuable historical address.

Judge Chase made a learned and eloquent address, and was followed by Hon. Ira Perley, Hon. Dan. Clark, Senator Patterson and others. During the reading of the poem one of the most violent storms ever known in this section came up.

A reception in honor of Gen. Sherman, at the house of Senator Patterson, closed the day's proceedings.

Humboldt Centennial at Boston

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, July 21.—A meeting was held to-day at Horticultural Hall, under the auspices of the Boston Natural Historical Society, to devise measures for celebrating the centennial birthday of Humboldt, the 14th of September next. Mayor Shurtleff presided. A committee was appointed to carry out the object of the meeting, and a resolution adopted approving the plan of founding in commemoration of the day a scholarship in the Museum of Comparative Zoology, to be termed "Humboldt Scholarship," that shall stand as a lasting memorial of the signal services rendered, both by Humboldt and Agassiz, to the cause of literature and science.

On motion of Col. T. W. Higgenson, a Committee was authorized to communicate with and ask the co-operation of the scientific societies throughout the country in commemorating the day.

Prof. Agassiz will deliver an address on the occasion.

The President at Long Branch.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 21.—President Grant's movements to-day have been quite reserved. This morning he remained at the Stetson House, conversing with his friends and reading morning papers. This afternoon he drove out to Shrewsbury on a visit to a friend, stopping at the cenntenial celebration of Christ Church. He returned to his hotel about five o'clock. General Williams, U. S. A., dined with the President. Ex-Secretary Borie and General Creswell left this morning for Washington. To-morrow the President and family will make a short visit to New York and return in the evening.

—Oliver A. Morgan, who killed John Petri near Terre Haute, Ind., a week ago, last Sunday, has been on trial before the Criminal Court this week, and was last evening found guilty of murder in the first degree, with a sentence of death. The prisoner heard the verdict without much apparent emotion. There was much clapping of hands in the Court room when the verdict was read.

—Daniel H. Fitzgerald, formerly cashier of the Syracuse City Bank, N. Y., is under arrest, charged with stealing about $8,000 from the Bank. He has been held for examination by the Police Justice.

OFF USHANT.

Our ship, the stout Bellerophon,
Off Rochefort Harbor lay:
We took a passenger on board
And slowly sailed away.
Seven days and nights, with baffling winds,
We strove to fetch Tor Bay.

The eighth day with the rising sun,
A morning in July,
French land upon our starboard bow
We plainly could descry.

When I a little middy
(Its fifty years ago),
Came up to take my watch on deck,
Into the early glow.

Magnificently rose the sun
Above the hills of France,
And spread his splendor on the sea
And through the sky's expanse.

Meanwhile, upon the poop, alone,
Our passenger stood there,
And viewed the gently gliding land
In clearest morning air—
The cliffs of Ushant, and the slopes
Of shadowy Finisterre.

"Ushant?" he asked, and I replied,
"Yes, sire." Whereon he raised
His little pocket telescope,
And gazed, and ever gazed.

For hours and hours he hardly moved;
And if his eyes grew dim
We never saw it; there he stood,
And none went near to him.

Till, with a faint and fickle wind,
We drew from off the coast,
And in a noontide haze of heat
France faded and was lost.

Napoleon's thoughts in that last look
If were but vain to seek;
Enough he had to think upon
If he had gazed a week.

And sometimes from his rock, perhaps,
He saw amid the shine
Of lonely waves, Cape Ushant's ghost,
Far on the dim sea-line.

EPHEMERIS.

—Virginia raises innumerable peanuts.

—Rochefort's turn, to fight De Cassagnac, has come.

—An Italian legation is to be established at Pekin.

—Russia is starting Sunday Schools upon the American plan.

—Venezuela has recognized the Cuban rebels as belligerents.

—The bathing heiresses at the sea shore are now spoken of as floating capital.

—A religious enthusiast in Paris recently crucified himself in his own garret.

—Blue coats and brass buttons have been adopted as a fashionable garb in England.

—The Yale Divinity School is to have a new building, and the cellars are now being dug.

—Mackerel fishing is popular and productive of profit now, off the coast of Massachusetts.

—Wagner, whose operas have rarely been produced in this country, has written a new one.

—New York has a number of female newspaper reporters, who do very well in that profession.

—Marfori, the successful Spanish adventurer, is about to leave France to seek for further fortune.

—Rheumatism is what troubles Mr. Seward now, and he thinks of trying the effects of Avon Springs.

—From Henry county, Ohio, we learn that this year's is the largest and best wheat crop ever harvested there.

—Rizzo, the famous Philadelphia singing teacher, has put by $40,000 and has gone to enjoy it in a villa near Naples.

—An exchange says: Matrimonial—It is reported that the French cable is "spliced" again, and has already had several buoys.

—Newark, N. J., has gone into the skeleton business, and is now producing several interesting specimens of ancient Indian remains.

—Mr. George N. Fahnestock, son of W. W. Fahenestock, of Harrisburg, accidentally shot himself on Sunday night. He died on Monday.

—Commodore Nutt and Minnie Warren are not married. At least they don't know it if they are, but they are not sure until they see Barnum.

—Another of the Harper brothers is near death's door. Few men have led such long, busy and useful lives, and few would be more sincerely lamented.

—In New York there is an association for the encouragement of poor authors. One for the encouragement of good authors would be more popularly appreciated.

—It is said that the Prince of Wales adopted the blue coat and brass buttons as a dress costume because he had been repeatedly mistaken in his plain black for a waiter.

—A woodenware association is in session at Chicago, representing eleven large factories. These factories now have on hand—pails, 8,750; tubs, 4,800; churns, 1,285, half bushels, 1,095.

—The free school system is very successful in Nova Scotia. Since it was established in 1864, the number of registered pupils has increased from 38,000 to 88,000, or 50,000 in four years.

—"The Established Church," said the Bishop of Peterborough in the House of Lords, "is no more its endowments than a man can be said to be his purse; and yet it is a great inconvenience to a man to be deprived of his purse."

—Mrs. Mary Walker, being a doctor, now wants to be a Consul. Mrs. W., like Cæsar, is not ambitious; she is willing to take anything under the sun which the fates and the powers that be may see fit to give her; anything at all so that it is an office.

—Mr. Richard Grant White beautifully compliments Miss Pauline Markham, one of Miss Lydia Thompson's blonde actresses, first by calling her "she who has found the long lost arms of the Venus of Milo, and whose voice is vocal velvet," and secondly by stating that she speaks "the most beautiful colloquial English I ever heard."

—Olive Logan, having exhausted herself on the question of bare existence on the American stage, has gone to find material for new and perhaps questionable sensations in the surf at Long Branch. The public taste which renders the publication of some of Miss Logan's essays possible is more to be lamented than the popularity of the ballet.

—The dissatisfaction with free trade in England is becoming so wide spread that a recent writer asserts that if the question of tariff or no tariff could be voted on tomorrow the protectionists would be found to be in the majority. The results of English free trade thus far have been the immense increase of commerce, the immense decrease of manufactures and agriculture, and the filling of the land with paupers.

—One of the very best pieces of fun a San Francisco boy can have is to be supplied with a stock of red-pepper and then let loose among the Chinese population. The way to do it is this: The boy throws a handful of the pepper into the eyes of a Chinaman and then steps back to enjoy the fun. The Chinsman jumps about as gayly as a beheaded chicken and jabbers and dances, and is altogether very amusing indeed. Strange as it may seem, he does not seem to care for the honor of thus amusing the rising generation of the superior race.

—The London Times remonstrates against the annual denunciation of England and the English by our Fourth of July orators. It thinks that the United States have grown to be so powerful a nation with so many new interests and so much new history that it might well afford to forget the grievances of a century ago. Abstractly, the Times is probably right enough, but the Fourth of July orators are a respectable body of gentlemen and their whole stock in trade would be destroyed if the ancient British grievances and spite were forgotten.

—Mr. Ruskin is for once making himself ridiculous by calling railroads "the defilement of Switzerland." Time was when almost every word Mr. Ruskin said was taken as gospel, but many of his old admirers have lost confidence in him since it has come out that his wonderfully beautiful books were but the most stupendous combination of puffery ever effected. As is now known, Mr. R. bought up all of Turner's pictures he could lay hands on, puffed them in his superb style until they were quintupled in value, and recently sold them out at an enormous profit. Barnum never so successfully operated on the people.

—The garbage-alcohol story is no joke but a plain disgusting fact; a Mr. Peter Robinson of Joliet, Illinois, has invented a process of extracting spirits and soap grease from common city garbage and had it patented last February. This patent is owned by men of Cincinnati and Chicago who established manufactories in both of those cities. In Cincinnati the factory has been stopped; in Chicago the delicious work still goes on. The ordinary garbage is hauled from the streets, dumped into tanks and boiled six hours, by which time it is a liquid, luscious mass which is run into tubs, fermented with a peculiar yeast—in which the patent lies—and then left until the soap grease rises to the top, after which the residuum is distilled after the usual manner. Each barrel of garbage yields three pounds of soap grease and four gallons of spirits, facts which lead the proprietors of the patent to state that they can get about twenty-five thousand dollars of soap grease and alcohol out of any one week's garbage in Cincinnati.

Changes in Japan.

A correspondent of the Allgemeine Zeitung at Nagasaki gives some curious information as to the present state of affairs in Japan. He says that although the principal daimios have all agreed to abdicate their power in favor of the Mikado, their acts are not in accordance with their professions, and it is probable that before long Japan will again be plunged into a civil war as disastrous as that which has just terminated. Many of the daimios, and Satsuma in particular, are deeply involved in debt, notwithstanding which they continually buy arms and ships in large quantities. The real reason of the submission of the daimios was that the princes of the south, who led the rebellion against the Tycoon, and eventually conquered him, were unable to agree as to the division of the spoil, and consequently made over the Tycoon's revenues to the Mikado. Most of these revenues proceed from confiscated property in the north of the island, where many of the daimios are secret adherents of the Tycoon; and the southern princes knew that if they divided this property among themselves they would not be able to defend it against their enemies. As it is, the Mikado is totally dependent on the southern daimios, who furnish him with the funds necessary to carry on the government, and any disputes among them are just as likely to produce a civil war as before.

Under the new system the Tycoon, or temporal sovereign, is to be abolished, and a confederation not unlike that which formerly prevailed in Germany to be created, with the Mikado, or spiritual sovereign, at its head. This arrangement, though it promises little for the maintenance of order, has at least one advantage for European merchants in Japan. Instead of the two sovereigns, with powers and responsibilities so vague that no European could understand which of them was really responsible for the due execution of treaties and the conduct of officials, there will now be a single government with a tangible head. Europeans may now expect some reform in the system of currency, which has brought on them so many severe losses. Under the treaties of 1866 the silver coin (boo) was to be 134 grains in weight, nine-tenths of which were to consist of pure silver; but the quantity of silver in the coins actually in circulation has always been much less. The reason of this is that hitherto there has been no government mint, the money having been coined under the direction of individual daimios, who, of course, do not consider themselves bound by treaties.

A Big Fish Story.

A correspondent of the Des Moines Register, writing from the northwestern part of Iowa, gives the following very fishy story:

The outlet of Lake Okoboji is remarkable for the vast abundance of fish which are caught in it. The road from Spencer crosses this outlet some three miles south of the lake. When we approached it our attention was attracted to the immense numbers of large fish to be seen as far as the eye could reach, up and down the stream. They kept up a ceaseless noise and splashing of the water in their efforts to pass over the shoal places, hundreds of them being partly exposed above the water.

While we were watching this sight, to us so unusual, a man with a team came along going to Spencer. He remarked that he would "stop and fish a little." Having no better implement for that purpose, he took from his wagon a piece of board, and in less than fifteen minutes we saw him strike and throw out twenty-five buffalo, each of which would have weighed from ten to twenty pounds. Having all the fish he wanted, he loaded up and proceeded on his way, with an addition of some four hundred pounds weight to his load. Hundreds of wagon-loads of fish may be caught there with no more effort than that of standing on the shore and throwing them out with a common pitchfork. They are hauled away by the wagon-load by the people from the neighboring settlements, and a plentiful supply of fish may always be had here with little expense or labor.

At present the buffalo is the most abundant, but at other seasons of the year pickerel are caught more plentifully. All that we have heard in regard to fish and fishing in the lake region of our State is true, and the half has not been told. If these fish stories appear incredible to persons who patiently spend whole days for the sake of an occasional nibble, let them come to Lake Okoboji and see for themselves.

Old Age and Youth.

In the course of his after-dinner speech at the late commencement of Williams College, the venerable poet, William Cullen Bryant drew this beautiful, yet sad, contrast between old age and youth as typified in himself and the young men about him:

It has occurred to me, since I, in the decline of life, came to visit once more this seat of learning in which our youths are trained to succeed us on the stage of the world, that I am in the situation of one who, standing on a spot desolate with winter and dim with twilight, should be permitted by a sort of miracle to look upon a neighboring region glorious with the bloom of spring and bright with the beams of morning. On the side where I stand are herbless fields and leafless woods, pools sheeted with ice, a frozen soil, and the shadows of approaching night. On the side to which I look are emerald meadows, fields of springing wheat, orchards in bloom, transparent streams, and a genial sunshine. With me, it is too late for any further hopeful tillage, and if the plough were put into the ground its culter would be obstructed by the ice-bound sods. On the side to which I look I see the tokens of judicious cultivation and careful attendance, recompensed by a free and promising growth. I rejoice at the kindly care thus bestowed, and my hope and prayer is that under such auspices all the promise which meets my eye may be amply fulfilled, and that from these luxuriant fields a harvest may be gathered richer and more abundant than has ever yet been stored in the granaries of our land.

Humboldt.

On the 14th of September next a century will have passed since the birth of one of Germany's greatest men—Alexander von Humboldt. The Berlin Geographical Society has resolved to commemorate the day, and in the Municipal Council Professor Virchow has proposed that a commission be appointed to organize a centenary festival. "This great man," says the Professor, "passed the greater part of his illustrious life in his native city; he there wrote the most popular and the most important of his works, and became the acknowledged center of scientific life; proving himself on all occasions the kind and enlightened patron of the learned and intelligent. In the days of national despondency and difficulty he did not disdain to take part, like a good citizen, in the assemblies of the burghers. It is therefore the duty of the community to honor becomingly the memory of the great man who was one of its most distinguished members." Alexander von Humboldt, after many years spent in investigating the secrets of nature in the old world and the new, returned to spend the evening of life in his native land, and was, by his own request, buried in his garden at Tegel, beside his friend and brother William, who had preceded him to the tomb.

A MURDERER ARRESTED.—We last evening received information that Brooks, the man who murdered Broadhead, in New Jersey, some six months since, and who was soon after arrested and then escaped from jail, and who has since been at large, with officers on his track, and a large reward offered for his apprehension, was captured on Thursday afternoon, in the woods on the opposite side of the river from Callicoon Depot. When discovered he was destitute of hat, without boots or shoes, and nearly naked. He made every effort to escape, and, upon being overtaken, resisted his captors until he was exhausted and overpowered. He was then conveyed to Callicoon, where he was confined awaiting the arrival of parties from Port Jervis to fully identify him. His appearance indicated that he had been in the woods for a time, and although he is much changed, still persons who have seen Brooks declare that the prisoner is no other than Brooks, the murderer. Brooks has been frequently seen within the past few weeks in that vicinity, and it has been repeatedly reported that he would soon be captured without doubt, but until as above stated, he had successfully eluded his pursuers. —Elmira Advertiser, 17*th*.

THE costume worn by gentlemen at the recent ball given by the Prince and Princess of Wales, consisted of a blue dress coat with gilt buttons, black breeches and white waistcoat.

THE free school system is very successful in Nova Scotia. Since it was established in 1864, the number of registered pupils has increased from 38,000 to 88,000, or 50,000 in four years.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House.) Pittsburgh, Pa.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 21, 1869.

It is a noteworthy fact:and one worthy of some consideration, that oil is relatively higher in the oil regions than anywhere else. There is no margin between here and Oil City. This accounts for the very light receipts, and what little is now coming in is being put in on old contracts. It is also a noteworthy fact that Crude is relatively higher than refined, and as a consequence, there are but few fresh sales being made; the greater porportion of the refined being shipped East is on old contracts. It is some consolation, however, to know that Pittsburgh is in no worse fix in this respect than some other places. Cleveland, notwithstanding the boasting of some of her papers, is similarly situated, if private advices can be relied on, and there is no apprehension manifested here in regard to that village monopolizing the business. Pittsburgh still retains the prestege of being the great oil refining emporium of the countrv, notwithstanding the trade is not in as satisfory condition, as it might and ought to be.

CRUDE.

The Crude market is steady with some considerable inquiry, and prices are strong and fully sustained. Sale 1,000 bbls for August at 14¾; 5,000 last four months, seller, at 14½; and $400 was paid for the privelege of placing 2,000 bbls anytime this year at 14. Last evening there was a sale of 5,000, seller all year, at 14.

REFINED.

Sale two lots of 1,000 each for July at 31½; 1,000 first half of August at 31⅞—last evening, 500 July at 31½ and 500 August at 31¾. Lines for the last three or four months still quoted at 33, and buyer's option, all year, was offered at 34¼.

CATTLE.

There has been a fair business in Cattle thus far this week, and notwithstanding the arrivals have been liberal and the advices from the east of a rather unfavorable character, yet, with a full attendance of buyers and a good shipping demand, the market has been fairly active, and prices generally are pretty well sustained. There was a pretty full delegation from Lancaster and other adjoining counties in the eastern part of the state, and Philadelphia and New York were also pretty well represented. The best shipping steers sold at 7½@7¾, and it is probable that fancy stock, although there were none of this grade sold, would have brought 8 and perhaps 8¼. Light Cattle, such as is usually bought at this season of the year by feeders, may be quoted at 4½@6, according to quality and condition

SHEEP.

The market for this class of stock has been fairly active this week. and with light arrivals and a good demand, prime fat sheep are higher than last week, and even at the advance, the supply was not equal to the demand. Prime fat sheep, suitable for retailing in the eastern markets, may be quoted at 5@5½, and medium to good at 4@4½. We are cognizant of one bunch of 614 head, prime Harrison county, Ohio, having been sold at 610. Pidcock & Erisman bought 2,400 for shipment to New York, at prices ranging from 2½@5¼c. per pound. Inferior sheep continue very dull, and to effect sales, inferior prices have to be accepted.

HOGS.

In good shipping demand, and, compared with last week, prices are a fraction higher. We now quote Philadelphia Hogs at 9¼@10, and Yorkers at 8¾@9¼—it is but proper to remark that New York shippers are buying a better grade of Hogs than heretofore. Baltimore buyers are paying from 9¼@9½.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is again receding at this point with 10 feet 10 inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. The weather yesterday was remarkably cool; mercury at 4 P. M. 75 in shade.

No arrivals to report since the date of our last report. The Kenton, from Portsmouth, R. C. Gray, from St. Louis and Glasgow, from St. Paul, are all due here to-day

The Belle for Parkersburg, and New State for Wheeling, departed.

Bueiness continues exceedingly dull, freight for all points being very scarce. and there is no prospect of any immediate improvemennt.

—The Arkansas, White and St. Francis are falling with plenty of water for boating.

—The tow-boats Tom Farrow, Blue Lodge and Ballio left Cairo for Pittsburgh on Monday, and the Wild Duck for St. Louis.

—The Wauanita, St. Louis to Pittsburgh was at Louisville on Monday, and the Argosy was advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Tuesday.

—A new bar has appeared near St. Paul, Minn. which was christened "Fourth of July" bar. The War Eagle was aground on it six hours on her last trip coming down.

—Sunday's Louisville Courier-Journal contains the following: General Weitzel has been offered the position of Chief Engineer on the Great Southern Railroad, from Cincinnati to Chattanooga, at a very high salary, but has declined, because he is unwilling to abandon the Western river improvements which the Government has placed under his charge.

—The towboat Uncle Sam was burned to the water's edge at Hickman, eighty miles above Frankfort, on Kentucky river, on Tuesday. She had been laid up at Frankfort, but was run off from that port by unauthorised parties and run aground and accidentally set on fire. She was an old boat, and was valued at $4,000 and was insured. She was owned by Messrs. Powell, Conroy & Brooks, Louisville.

—The Memphis Appeal, of Saturday says: Some three hundred armed negroes were about to take possession of the steamer George W. Cheek, on Friday night, as she landed below here on the Arkansas shore. They were hunting for Clarence Collyer, who killed Captain Haynes, at Marion, that evening. They were assured that he was not on board, but it was hard to keep them from taking the boat.

—A St. Louis telegram says: After a deal of high water and bad luck, Messrs. Case & Co. have at last pumped the water out of the small coffer dam at the lower end of Sycamore Chain, and they expected to commence excavating today. It is thought that but ten days will be occupied in removing the obstructions; then all that remains of the old and new dams will be taken away, and Sycamore Chain will have ceased to worry steamboat men. Heavy rains have again fallen along the upper rivers, and all their tributaries are swelling rapidly. The rise has been 18 inches here during the past 24 hours, and it is expected to reach several feet.

—Captain J. Stut. Neal, commander of the Richmond, gives it as his opinion that the tonnage of the steamboats plying the Mississippi and the lower Ohio rivers will not be adequate to the demand that will be made upon them during the coming fall season. The growing crops throughout the South and West promise to be overwhelmingly large and abundant in quantity, and excellent in quality. A great revolution in the shipment of grain is being fast inaugurated. The enormous shipments of Western grain that have heretofore been made to Europe by way of New York will, under the new order of things, go down the Ohio and Mississippi, and find egress through the port of New Orleans.

GOLD closed in New York on yesterday at 135⅛.

A STATE Convention of county, city and borough school superintendents met at Harrisburg, yesterday.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL COURT proceedings in Chicago, published on our first page, will be found very interesting reading matter. The principle involved is a very important one and will especially interest our Episcopal friends.

WE ARE INDEBTED to Dr. WILLIAM JUDSON, of Erie, Pa., for well preserved copies of the Pittsburgh GAZETTE of 1813 and of the Erie Gazette of 1824. As relics of old times they are very valuable and the donor has our heartiest thanks for the esteemed gift.

THE publication of the income tax lists in the city and contiguous districts of New York has had the effect to stimulate a remarkable tenderness of conscience among citizens, thousands of whom are coming forward to add to their returns, largely to the benefit of the Treasury.

THE NOMINATION of Mr. PACKER for Governor inspires no enthusiasm even in the Eleventh Congressional District, in which he resides, and which he formerly represented in Congress. Indeed, as yet the Democrats of that district have given no signs of life whatever, the present season. Having overwhelming majorities in all of the five counties, and no local dissensions, except in one of the counties that betoken a schism on local candidates, there is nothing in the aspects of the canvass to infuse into them so much as their accustomed zeal and energy.

WE WERE GLAD to meet at Uniontown, on Monday last, our venerable friend Dr. HUGH CAMPBELL, just returned from Europe, whither he had gone as a delegate from the Presbyterian General Assembly—accompanied by his son, Dr. HUGH FRANCIS CAMPBELL, whose melancholy death, at Belfast, we recently announced. The Doctor, notwithstanding his long journey and its afflicting incidents, has enjoyed fine health, and looks quite vigorous and strong. He had a most cordial greeting from the citizens of Uniontown, to whom he has endeared himself by a long, blameless and useful life.

THE IRISH CHURCH BILL has been virtually postponed for a short period by the obstinacy of the House of Lords, in refusing to restore its original preamble. It is better perhaps that action is delayed, as the English politicians and people are too heated on the question to act with that wisdom, prudence and evenly justice which a measure of reform of so much importance demands in its consideration. The crisis is reached, and when it shall have passed, a new Irish Church bill will meet with little or no opposition in its passage. The people have made their voices heard for the reform, and can afford to be patient for a while since its coming is inevitable.

THE NOMINATION of Mr. PERSHING for Supreme Judge of the State does not strike the Democrats of the State favorably. The fact is he is almost wholly unknown. While in his immediate neighborhood he is known to possess an exemplary character and fair professional standing as a county practitioner, the people of the State, and even the lawyers thereof, are not familiar with his name. True, he served some years ago, in the State Senate, for a full term, and faithfully enough, but not with a degree of ability to leave a permanent impression upon the popular recollection. He will be likely to fall somewhat behind Mr. PACKER'S aggregate vote.

TO MOST PEOPLE the mere existence, in this country, of a journal with the avowed purposes of the Imperialist, has been a mystery, and how enough people could be found, in so thoroughly established a republic, to support such a paper has been an unsolved problem. The Imperialist has itself let the cat out of the bag, and revealed the fact that it is one of the last efforts of the Southern rebels. In a recent number of that paper a promise is made to pay the Southern war-debt, as soon as an empire is established. The press is powerful, but in this instance can hardly do more towards fulfilling the wishes of Southern monarchists, than did Gen. LEE with the grand army behind him.

THE STRIKE of the anthracite coal miners, whatever it may have done for those immediately concerned in it, has operated most injuriously for a much larger number of laborers. The helpers are necessarily idle, while the miners refuse to work, though they do not want to be. A large number of railroad hands are doing nothing, or next to nothing, because the usual quantity of coal is not going forward. On the canals leading from the mines, the boatmen are suffering a severe loss. None of them are managing to make expenses, and the season is now so far advanced that they cannot possibly get to its close in a way to save themselves whole. Many of them have abandoned their contracts, and gone, with their teams, in pursuit of other employments.

THE CHOLERA has certainly made its appearance in the metropolitan cities. If the terrible epidemic sweeps over the country it will find no more welcome abiding place than Pittsburgh. We do not invite any needless alarm, but would earnestly urge our friends to act now as if the cholera were really here, and to take such sanitary precautions as prudence dictates, to preserve the individual and public health. Those officers charged especially with the enforcement of city ordinances looking toward the abatement of nuisances calculated to jeopardize the health of the people should be more than ever watchful and active in the discharge of their duties. Whether there is danger of a visit by cholera or not it is as wise to be cautious as to be careless, and a general sanitary reform will cost little in comparison to the good which will result therefrom.

THE completion of the second Atlantic Cable promises to result in the organization of another Press Association for the collection and dissemination of news. Indeed that result is certain, if the two cables shall remain under separate control. Should the present "understanding," between the old Association the companies owning the English cable and the Western Union Telegraph be continued, the new Atlantic line must be supplanted by connection with independent land-lines, on this continent. It is, however, more likely that the Western Union will see their interest in cutting loose from the present arrangement, offering equal facilities to any and all news associations which may come into existence. It is understood that a movement is on foot for another combination which will supply news at largely reduced rates. The French cable will be received on this coast, in submission to such provisions as Congress may hereafter make.

A CARD from J. S. RUTAN, Esq., informs the readers of the Beaver Argus that he has "challenged an investigation, which will be accorded by the Washington county Executive Committee, or will transpire in a Court of Law. It will be public, rigid and thorough, and will establish the utter falsity of the charges so assiduously circulated there and in Washington county during the past few weeks."

The Argus is also "requested to state that:—

The report that one of the Conferees from Washington county had left for the West immediately after the Senatorial nomination was made, is utterly false. He is at his home in Washington county, and utterly denies the stories circulated in reference to him, and states he is ready to answer in any way and at any time. All the Washington county Conferees are at home and have been in Washington since the nomination.

In the latter statement the Washington Reporter agrees. It announces, moreover, that Mr. RUTAN has arranged for a full investigation to be at once made as follows: "Three men shall be designated to act in conjunction with the Chairman of the County Committee; that this Committee shall visit Pittsburgh the present week to meet a corresponding Committee from Beaver to investigate the entire action of the Conference. Mr. RUTAN pledges himself that in case the use of any improper means is proved against him, or if the Conference think that his candidacy will endanger the ticket, he will promptly withdraw." This course is satisfactory to the Republicans of Washington county, and a party meeting of the voters will be held in the Court House there this afternoon to select the three delegates to represent their interests in the investigation.

NO MORE CONSERVATISM.

It is gratifying to hear from Washington that neither the President nor Messrs. BOUTWELL, HOAR or CRESSWELL, sympathize with the Conservative movement in Mississippi. We are also assured that the President has plainly advised his brother-in-law, Judge DENT, against permitting his name to be used as the Conservative candidate. Should these statements remain uncontradicted, the fact will serve to quiet some certain uneasy apprehensions which many thoughtful Republicans have entertained of late.

The fact is established that no Republican paper in Mississippi supports either DENT or the Conservative movement, while every Democratic journal is for it, multiplying in every issue, their uniform declarations that President GRANT is in sympathy with them. The Jackson Clarion is a leading print of that sort. It asserts "on undoubted authority" that the President "will preserve an attitude of neutrality between the liberal Republican and ultra Radical candidates in Mississippi and Texas." Again, the Clarion says:

"We are rejoiced by assurances to Major Wofford, both from the President and Gen. Sherman, that the District Commander will be required to discontinue his partisan proceedings and to show fair play. To secure impartiality, Gen. Sherman will order the military officer who conducted the Virginia election, and against whom no complaint of partiality is alleged, to perform the same duty in Mississippi."

These statements are very direct and of quite too much importance to be disregarded. It is difficult to believe that they could be made except upon authority more or less plausible. Yet are we willing to credit them as little as we have accepted the truth of similar intimations as to the Administration policy in Virginia. It is easy to imagine that Gen. SHERMAN regards radical Republicanism with a feeling of at least indifference, but we are disinclined to attribute to the President a policy, or even a sentiment, so decidedly at variance with the just expectations of the Republican masses to whom his election was due, and to whom alone the President must look for an effective and cordial support to his Administration.

We the more readily, therefore, rely upon the later advices from Washington, first alluded to above, which assure us that Gen. GRANT and the leading members of his Cabinet appreciate the situation and the true direction of their own political duty. We have all had enough, in Virginia, of conservative "Republicanism.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF PARENTS.

About this time of the year, many men are called upon to perform a duty, the effects of which will be felt, by the future America, years, perhaps generations, from this time. Before the first of September very many parents will be obliged to find schools and teachers for their children. There are few more important duties than this in life. The whole course and character of many a man's life has been changed completely by the teachers of his youth, and parents are too often careless in this matter, often seeming to suppose that if they send their children to the most expensive schools, they are doing the whole of a parent's duty. But men, the least calculated for the positions they fill, often value themselves the highest, and the world as often accepts, without investigation, that valuation as the true one. Thus, the fact that a man has for years filled some situation with apparent acceptability, is no proof that he is at all capable of filling it properly. A careful man will rigidly examine the antecedents of a teacher, before he submits his son's body and soul to his care.

We have known an instance where, for near a score of years, a man has been at the head of a well-filled school, professing to prepare lads for college, and all that time knowing so little of his business that he was obliged to use "keys" and "interlinears" for the simplest mathematical and Latin books. None of his pupils but the exceptionally brilliant ones ever succeeded in entering college from his school, but that slight fact passed unnoticed We have known an instance where a villainous fellow conducted a school for many years, corrupting many of the lads, carelessly intrusted to him, both physically and mentally, and so fearfully sullying the young and immortal spirits which came beneath his influence, that nothing short of a miracle could ever wash them clean- Yet this creature, too horrible to be called a man, went on his evil way undetected for years. In each of these cases the teacher was plausible and attractive in his manners, exercising a fascination over his boys which made them plead with their parents at each recurring session, to allow them to return to the schools which they found so pleasant.

So that it is not from the pupils themselves, nor yet from their parents, that men should seek information. Personal examination should be made of the system and course of study and their results, and if the school has been long in existence, none can give such valuable information as those persons who, having once been pupils there, have since grown up to an age from which they can look back upon the old school and its masters with unprejudiced eyes. These men may feel a delicacy about doing an injury to a former teacher, or may have old grudges to satisfy against them, but the parent should ask them to state the facts upon such points as he may desire to investigate, and then weigh them himself. We do not believe that there are many cases so bad as the two we have cited, but there may be some, even now, and the risk is frightful enough to make it well worth any father's while, to make thorough investigation into both the educational and the moral qualifications of the instructor, before making his final selection of the men to whom he shall entrust such serious responsibilities.

GEN. CANBY'S order requiring the iron-clad oath from the members elect of the Virginia Legislature has fallen like a monstrous bomb shell in the Conservative ranks. How it has been welcomed we may judge of from the following paragraph quoted from the Louisville Journal:

We presume that not one in ten of the persons elected to the Legislature of Virginia by the Conservatives can take the iron-clad oath. If a quorum can take it, and if enough to constitute a quorum shall actually take it, that quorum, we have no doubt, will contain a majority of ultra Radicals, who will ratify the 15th amendment and elect two ultra Radicals to the United States Senate. But if, for the want of a quorum, seats shall be declared vacant and new elections ordered, the Conservatives, it is probable, bending a little to avoid being broken, will nominate and elect candidates who can take the oath, and who yet will cast all their votes and shape all their actions in favor of national and State conservatism.

THE Pennsylvania Democracy may learn something, if they will attentively consider the drift of the annexed paragraph from the Louisville Journal:

"There is a certainty that the elections of the coming fall will be the last that will ever take place in Kentucky with negro suffrage excluded. This is a fact that we had better look square in the face, much as we may loathe its visage. Everybody knows that, immediately after the reassembling of Congress, the Fifteenth Amendment will be declared to have been ratified by the requisite number of States and be part of the Constitution; and then all the negroes of this State will be voters, and nothing can exclude them from the polls except successful war against the United States, and that, whether it would be righteous or unrighteous, will not be attempted."

A WASHINGTON dispatch to a western Democratic journal says:

Prominent Radicals think that cause exists for the most careful watching of the movements of the President in political matters during the fall campaign. The extremists do not hesitate to avow their belief that the very palpable conservatism of two or three members of the Cabinet will have such influence over the President as to cause him to submit measures to the next session of Congress which cannot be recognized as according with the esential principles of the Radical party. This uneasiness as to keeping the President in their power, will, it is said, induce a formidable movement toward effecting a change in the Cabinet when Congress assembles.

CLIPPINGS.

A CHICAGO woman attempted to commit suicide because her husband wouldn't take her to the museum.

THE people of Oregon are again talking about the separation of the Eastern and Western portions of the State.

A FRENCH fanatic actually nailed two feet and one of his hands to a cross which he had made out of old rafters.

THE Massachusetts State Prison now contains 594 convicts, a larger number than were ever before within its walls.

AUSTRIA passes cards with the address on one side and a communication on the other through the mails for one cent each.

THE strike among the potters in Trenton, N. J., still continues, and there is no immediate prospect of an adjustment of the difficulty.

THE Gaspe (Canadian) salmon and cod fisheries are unusually successful this year. The salmon are more plentiful than for the last quarter of a century.

AT many of the watering-place hotels the waiters are not paid any salary, the fees they receive being considered sufficient compensation for their services.

THERE was considerable excitement in Philadelphia lately over a rumor that an agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, sent to Europe for that purpose, had succeeded in purchasing sufficient bonds of the Reading road to give the Pennsylvania road a controlling interest in it. The officers of the Reading Company deny the truth of the story.

AN unsuccessful attempt was made last Thursday morning to rob the county treasury at New Philadelphia. As Wm. Campbell, of the stage line, was awaking passengers for the morning coach, in passing the treasury he heard pounding within, and suspecting all was not right sought assistance and returned, but the robbers becoming frightened had fled. On examination it appeared that they had dug out the bricks around the outer door of the vault and broken off the moulding sufficiently to get the door open. The safe inside the vault, containing about $10,000 of the people's money, had not been disturbed.

A SINGULAR INCIDENT.—An industrious German of Milwaukee, had by dint and hard labor and economy, saved $500. For safe keeping he put it in an old stocking and stowed it away behind a rafter in his house. Some days after, the poor German was in despair to find the mice had made a nest of it. He gathered the fregments, and they made a peck measure heaping full of scraps of paper, stocking, wood, nut shells, &c., and what to do he did not know. A friend advised him to send the whole mass to the Treasury Department at Washington, and he did so. This was several weeks ago, and not a word did the old man hear of the money until last Saturday, when he received a draft for $250 from the Treasury Department, and a letter stating that so much only had been saved out of the $500. Two girls in the Department were at work seventeen days sorting, picking, pasting, and finally succeeded in getting $250 so that it could be recognized.

UNIONTOWN, PA.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

UNIONTOWN, July 19, 1869.

I came down this morning from my eyrie on the mountain, to take the one o'clock P. M. train for Pittsburgh, but learned here that a small bridge near Fayette Station, on the Uniontown branch, east of Connellsville, was carried away by the stream, swollen by the rains of Sunday and Sunday night. Indeed the rains have been heavy and almost continuous for several days. So I am obliged to await the coming train, uncertain, as yet, when I can make my way homeward. The storm seems to be over to-day. Shower after shower, in quick succession, has visited my temporary home on the mountain for the week past; the wind, until to-day, continuing from the southwest, but at this writing its course is exactly reversed, leaving the clouds behind, so that the sun again rules the day. Here, in this beautiful and flourishing Shiretown of Fayette, nestling at the foot of the mountain, I find the heat as unendurable as that of Pittsburgh, from which I have sought to escape. I have spent a week at Snyder's "Summit House," on the very crest of the great ridge, at the point traversed by the National Turnpike, six miles east of this place. Few, if any, spots on the continent east of the Rocky or Nevada Mountains present a finer combination of natural beauties than this summit. The spot itself was selected by the road engineer as the lowest depression of the mountain crest. There are therefore at short distances various peaks and knobs of superior elevation. Prominent among them are "Pine Knob," and the classic peak known as "Dunbar's Camp," which comprises also the grave of Jummonville. There is the "Washington Spring," where the Father of his country, when quite young, and before the country was born to him, slaked his thirst and rested his limbs, on his retreat with Braddock's army after the catastrophe of the 9th of July, one hundred and fourteen years ago. From the Summit House it is but a few miles ride or walk to Fort Necessity, Braddock's grave, and other notable spots mentioned in the history of the disastrous expedition of Gen. Braddock in 1755. It does not need these classic mementoes to give attraction to these mountain resorts. Nature has spread around in great profusion such exhibitions of her vagaries and her power that her votaries who come hither when the glorious forests are most profuse in their emerald garniture, and her shrubbery charms the eye and refreshes the senses with its resplendant and fragrant bloomage, will not be disappointed of any expectation however extravagant. The country—in the mountains—is but sparsely settled. There are, however, a number of fine old families, or their descendants, to be found here and there settled all along the mountain range, among these the venerable —— Snyder, whose grand-son keeps the Summit House, and who is now one of the County Commissioners, Sebastian Rush, on the National road, six miles from here, still living with six sons settled in this county, all estimable citizens. Of these sons we found H. C. Rush at the Washington Spring farm, which he has recently sold to a farmer from Allegheny county. We were glad to find him still at the spring and to enjoy his hospitality to the extent of a drink out of the beautiful and historic spring, and also a welcome surfeit of rich buttermilk. I fear he may not find elsewhere a more delightful home than the one he is about to relinquish. These mountains are a never ending wonder. The imagination droops before the task of estimating the force of the convulsions that could cause such vast upheavals. They suggest the paradoxical idea of both symmetry and distortion. They present, in the distant horizon, the right lines of a plane, while they abound with inexplicable topographical vagaries.

It is much to be regretted that no individual or company has had the enterprize to provide at one or more eligible spots, of which the "Summit" is one and "Chalkhill" another, a house of large capacity for the reception and entertainment of some of the thousands who would gladly flock hither to escape the prison house and heat of the cities. Here we always have cool nights, and are never without a health-giving and invigorating air, the more grateful because almost always in motion. There are various places where a few persons can be accommodated. We mention among these Snyder's "Summit House," Bunting's "Stone House," near the celebrated "Fayette Springs." Mr. Wiggins' and Johnson's, are private houses, also near the Springs, where a few persons are accommodated each year, and are severally excellent places to "get in" if you can. Mr. Wiggins formerly kept the hotel at the Springs, which was unfortunately burned down. He is a genial gentleman, and a practiced caterer for the public—now on his fine farm prepared for only a few—the Johnson brothers are descendents of the old Downer family. They and their aunts, the Misses Downer, comprise the household at the old family brick mansion at Chalkhill. Such inmates as they will receive are ever sure of kind treatment and good living. My own party are the glad guests of this most estimable family.

I am coming down, dear Editors, to tell all the rest about these cool and lovely retreats, hoping to lure you up to these heights of summer joy. Lest I might not be along to guide you on the way, let me commend you to the McClelland House at Uniontown, where you take the stage for the Mountain. This house is kept by Mr. Porter, a capital landlord and very obliging. If at Uniontown you want to telegraph to your friends, you will find Miss Barclay, the accomplished young lady operator, very efficient in the office, very intelligent and obliging. I was glad to find such proficiency in a female telegrapher and hope many others will be found to adorn the office as Miss Barclay does. I regret that I cannot speak so favorably of the Postmaster at Uniontown. Nearly all the mountain resorts are nearer to this than any other postoffice and must depend on the Postmaster here for a little extra civility in sending by the driver of the mail coach, or by private opportunity, the mail matter for visitors to the mountains. The officer, who I learn was a capital soldier, I fear makes an indifferent Postmaster, at least he fails to conform his practice, in the matter referred to, to his manifest duty, and causes much annoyance and vexation to many visiting strangers, whom, we take it, it is the duty of the Postmaster to serve as well as those of his own town.

RAMBLER.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Fitzgerald, the ex-cashier, who was arrested for stealing $8,000 from the Syracuse City bank, has been held to bail to answer the charge. He was subsequently arrested on a charge of embezzling $30,000 from the same bank. It is alleged he has been operating in Wall street.

—The semi-annual Convention of the Grand Army of the Republic of the State of Ohio, commenced at Sandusky yesterday morning. The attendance is large and harmonious. An address was delivered by General J. Warren Keifer. The Convention will continue two days.

—A tax-payer in the Nashville Press and Times refers to an opinion, which is fast gaining ground, that the bonds issued to railroads in Tennessee since the war were illegally issued, and it is understood that a railroad official intends to contest the right of the State to collect the interest upon them.

—The tobacco factory, belonging to Valentine Koen, in Brooklyn, was seized Tuesday for violation of the revenue laws. One hundred and twenty-five thousand cigars, two thousand pounds of leaf tobacco, and a quantity of smoking tobacco were turned over to the custody of Marshal Dalton.

—It has been reported that the Fenian Halpine, now imprisoned in England, will soon be released. The Government has not received any late advices regarding the case, but Secretary Fish ordered Minister Motley to renew the effort for his release, which was abandoned when Reverdy Johnson was relieved.

—The mutiny at Sing Sing prison has been effectually quelled, and about three hundred of the prisoners, who had been placed in close confinement, have been released and returned to work. The leaders intended the revolt should be universal, having for its object a general clearing out of the prison at no matter what sacrifice of life.

—At the annual meeting of the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad Company the following were elected Directors: George H. White, Grand Rapids; James A. Walters, Israel Kellogg, Kalamoozoo; Richard Reed, Jonathan G. Wait, Sturgis; William S. Boyd, La Grange; Jos. K. Edgerton, Pliny Hoagland, Fort Wayne; Mancel Falcott, Chicago. J. K. Edgerton was elected President.

—The statement that Secretary Fish has given authority to land the French cable at Duxbury, Mass., is not correct. The Secretary does not consider that he has power to grant such authority, as it belongs exclusively to Congress. The Secretary simply expressed the opinion that with the concessions which the Cable Company propose to make to the United States, Congress will probably not make any objections.

—The Detroit city authorities have decided to make no more contracts for stone paving the present season, for which a large appropriation has been voted. This action is taken in consequence of alleged collusion between the contractors, whereby they propose to obtain exorbitant prices for the work. It is stated that all the paving stone at Sandusky, Medina and other places has been secured by a "ring" of paving contractors.

TICKETS from Boston and New York for Chicago, via Cincinnati, are now sold over the Baltimore and Ohio route, within ten cents of the price charged by the Lake Shore route. This indicates cheaper travelling in the immediate future. It is the beginning of a "cutting" campaign.

ONE OF THE MOST ASTOUNDING CURES EVER PUBLISHED—ATTESTED BY OVER FIFTY WITNESSES.

The remarkable cure of Miss Fisher, of Beaver county, is one worthy of more than a passing notice, especially when so many persons are suffering not only with diseases of the eyes, and partial or total blindness, but likewise with other chronic ailments which Dr. Keyser has treated with such astounding success.

The lady concerned was doomed to perpetual blindness, which through Dr. Keyser's skill was completely removed, the truth of which has been vouched for by a sufficient number of witnesses to establish the fact beyond all cavil. The subjoined letter from the young lady's brother speaks for itself:

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that I have to the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

S. P. FISHER,
North Sewickley.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated.

SUMMER PERILS—HOW TO ESCAPE.

It will not do to trifle with the health in hot weather. Vigor oozes through the skin at every pore, and it is by physical vigor only that unhealthy influences can be baffled and repelled. The vital elements are evaporated in perspiration. Intense heat converts a man into a self-acting pump, and the moisture that is pumped out of him is derived from the well-springs of life within him. There is great need therefore, that these sources of physical strength should be in a condition to bear, without danger or inconvenience, the extraordinary drain. If they are not in such a condition, the individual becomes languid and low-spirited.

The main thing is to keep the digestive apparatus in good working trim; for if the stomach, the purveyor of the system, does its duty thoroughly, the liver, the bowels, the brain, and the nervous system, being duly matured, will be likely to do theirs. In view of these facts, it is manifest that a powerful and wholesome vegetable tonic like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is especially required at this enfeebling season. It is the most admirable of all correctives and invigorants, and for this reason: it does not over-stimulate the system. The proportions of appetient, tonic and stimulating components are so judiciously graduated, that the process of invigoration and purification goes on simultaneously, and no undue excitement is created in the circulation or the brain. All unmedicated stimulants, however pure, excite the pulse and the nervous system. Their exhilarating effect is temporary, and when it passes off the physical and mental depression they were employed to remove returns in an aggravated form. But this is not the case when HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are taken as a stomachic and nervine. The medical herbs, roots and gums with which they are impregnated, neutralize the exciting principle of the rye spirit which forms their basis, and which is in itself the most wholesome of all the varieties of alcohol.

Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 21, 1869.

The gold market is almost unchanged, opening at 135 on the better bond quotations from London, but advancing immediately to 135⅛, and closing at 135¼ to 135⅛. It is almost certain that gold has touched its lowest point for the present, and an upward movement is likely to set in at any moment.

Government bonds are dull and heavy with light fluctuation. Several lots of bonds are on the way back from Europe, and as soon as bonds of return shipments make their appearance in the market here, low quotations are looked for.

Stocks are dull, having declined slightly, and are gradually selling down again despite the easy money market.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 21, 1869.

The general market centinues d and neglected, and there is no prosp at present of any immediate impro ment. As is usual at this season of year, the demand for almost everyth is restricted mainly to supplying imm diate wants, while in regard to val there are no important changes.

The weather has been more favor for harvesting during the past two da and late advices would indicate t the damage sustained by the rec rains has been considerably exagge ed. In this section of the country wheat is mostly all cut, and a good d of it housed. A gentlemen who spent some ten days in Washington C and knows whereof he speaks, says t the crop is larger in that county tha has been since 1855, and we have doubt that this is true of all the count in western Pennsylvania.

A corresdondent of the Davenp Gazette makes the following timely dress to the weather croakers: "Le look back at 1858. Up to the 14th June of that year we had almost c stant rains, with furious storms of th der, lightning and wind. The growi crops promised a large yield, and eve thing was promising. The weather th set in blazing hot, and so continued til the 9th of July, when we had ab three weeks of hot, cloudy, ra weather. Spot and rust set in, and s all prospect of a crop failed. Some f mers refused to cut their grain, a others offered to sell the crop as it st for from 5 to $10. The majority, ho ever, saved their crops in a damag condition. After the 5th of August weather continued hot and dry, w occasional showers. With all these d advantages a larger amount of gr was harvested, and those who croak loudest in June were surprised to fi they had a crop, and that it brou fair prices in the fall!

I see less reason to fear this seas than in 1858. The crops are heavy, t spot and rust have done but little har some of the grain is down, but it is tangled by high winds; it is not yet ri or too ripe to cut, and, with a few d of dry weather and an energetic use machinery and muscle, can be saved.

The London Economist of the 3d July has the following in reference to crop prospects:

The last ten days have produced co siderable improvement in the appe ance of the wheat crops, so much so th with the exception of the thin and we soils, there is a reasonable expectat of a good crop. The plant has increas in vigor and improved in color, an the ear, now generally making its pearance, shall have a fair blooming s son, we believe a reasonably good yi will be the result. This is what hoped for when less hopeful opinio were very prevalent. There is no s of that weakness in the straw which often causes the wheat to fall, and we live that the cold weather of Ju which gave rise to so much apprehe sion, may in fact have afforded streng and solidity to the straw. Nor can it doubted that the temperature of the s produced by the extreme heat and lo continuance of dry weather of last su mer, have had a material effect in s taining the growing corn during the l ungenial spring. The growing oats, a to some extent barely, have receiv equal benefit with the wheat from t improved weather.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

Several members of the House, and, haps, one or two Senators, will introe bills for the repeal of the income tax, he next session of Congress.

The Government is anxious to dispose some of our surplus iron-clads, and l sell to Spaniards or Cubans or any ers, who choose to buy. The Presidents some of the South American Republare the only persons who appear deous to invest in these commodities at sent, but they and the Secretary of Navy cannot agree exactly on the ures.

Whatever may be said about the result of Virginia election, it is certain that y the ex-rebels and the sympathizers oice over it, while the Radicals generfrom that State, are despondent. latter, however, profess to have es that the quarrel, already brewing, ween Governor-elect Walker and Gen1 Malone and other members of the mocratic railroad ring, will result to ir benefit.

A satisfactory solution of the difficulty out the landing of the French Atlantic ble within the territory of the United tes, has been arrived at between Secary Fish and the representatives of Company. The latter pledge themves subject to any regulations which y hereafter be prescribed by Congress, l they also concede to our Government the privileges yielded to the French vernment in regard to the transmission messages. Upon these conditions our vernment withdraws its prohibition inst the landing of the cable, but does t give its consent, which it has no aurity to do, as Congress only has that wer. The effect of the arrangement is, t no obstacle will be presented by our vernment to the completion of this at work, and the projectors will make connection with our shores without y further delay.

Secretary Boutwell continues to be the tim of severe denunciation from the nds of Judge Dent, Conservative cante for Governor of Mississippi. His pointments in the State, and his genl policy being inimical to the interests the Conservatives, he is naturally the ject of their hatred. The widely nted paragraph regarding a quarrel ween Judge Dent and Governor Boutll had its origin in the undisputed fact t the latter refused to accede to the reests of a friend of the former to appoint sons to office in Mississippi who are pporters of the Conservative movement. nce then Judge Dent and his friends ve industriously circulated the statent that Secretary Boutwell originated story of the alleged quarrel. It is e to all parties interested that this exnation should be made public, and it ems to show the exact relations which ist between the Secretary and the esident's Conservative brother-in-law. The friends of Chief Justice Chase are sy circulating a story that the postnement of a decision on the application Yerger for a writ of habeas corpus, s effected at the instance of the Presint and his Cabinet. The tale bears its n contradiction, for it is evident that binet consultations have nothing whater to do with the deliberations of the ief judicial officer in the land. It is serted that Yerger's friends did not file ir application until they had previsly obtained a verbal promise from dge Chase for its favorable considern.

Chase's Radical friends (very few of t kind remain) advised him that the omised decision, if rendered at this e, would injure his political status in North, hence the postponement; and nding further developments the judicial ndidate for the next Presidency flatters mself that, while he has gained favor th his Southern friends, he has not lost ound with the few Northern Radicals o believe in him, but who do not beve in the unconstitutionality of the litary power now trying Yerger for his . When the case comes up before the l bench of the Supreme Court, he will able to fulfill his promise to release rger without assuming the sole responbility of the act.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Titusville erald writes from Petroleum Centre as lows:

The unchecked reign of riot, lust and bauchery, which has made this place e disgrace of the State, culminated last ght (Saturday) about 11 P. M. in a brumurder.

A man named David Tate, owning a e-half interest in a well in Rouseville, as visiting the upper "Free and Easy" posite the American Hotel, a notorious ll combining the three Satanic agencies a concert saloon, doggery and brothel. s frequently happens in these dens of vils, an affray took place between a other of Tate and another party. David terposed to separate the combatants and as seized by the bar tender, one Gus hiel. A blow or two was given by the rties, when Rhiel, rushing behind the r, seized a revolver and fired, shooting te in the left breast, who staggered to e walk and fell prostrate, dying in the reet in the midst of an excited crowd in out five minutes. The wound was a ghtful one, by reason of the proximity the pistol, and the ball evidently penetated the heart.

Rhiel at once gave himself to an officer, d at 3 A. M. was taken to Franklin to old lynching by the excited citizens of seville, who, justly incensed at this old blooded butchery, are to-day swarming to the Centre with threats of vengeance.

This bloody deed is but the precursor others, unless these sinks of iniquity e at once abated. On Washington reet alone nearly two hundred prostiutes ply their infamous calling, aided, erhaps, by two score of doggeries which eal out distilled damnation by the glass. very agency of hell has here full swing, nd the observance of all law has made ne place a pandemonium which wars ontinually upon every principle of dency and order.

Most unfortunately, the business prosperity of the place is dependent upon a ontinuance of rioting, lust and drunkness, and nothing but the strong arm f the law, by special legislation, can reeem this place, which is even now a second Sodom.

"Two Miles of Slow-Match to one Fire-Cracker."

The Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania gets the following "first rate notice" in the Hartford Post:

A little more than a year ago, in the sweltering heat of purgatorial Tammany, we first heard of Asa Packer. The full-voiced Perrin was calling the roll of States. Mr. Eaton, on behalf of "the sterling and gallant Democracy of my little Commonwealth," had named the Hon. James E. English as a candidate for the Presidency; Maine had nominated Gen. Hancock; Ohio had named Pendleton; the serene Tilden had broached the best butt of the season in Sanford E. Church; New Jersey had set up Joel Parker; and Pennsylvania was called. At once there rose up a damp vision of that auditory, a human form with both hands full of manuscript. It was not the "ancient mariner," nor did he "fix" anybody "with his glittering eye." It was Judge Woodward of Pennsylvania; and he "fixed" the whole crowd with one of the most dismal obituaries that ever followed a politician home. Judge Woodward read his whole heap of manuscript. He described his man before he named him. Twenty minutes description—think of it—in manuscript—read slowly and deliberately—intoned at that—to an audience of seven or eight thousand—every man a rivulet of perspiration—all impatient for a ballot—in an atmosphere blue with blasphemy and reeking with rum—just think of that man standing on a bench in Tammany Hall, amid such surroundings, drenched in his own sweat, reeling off a couple of columns of biographical stuff, and tying on the end of it all "the name of Asa Packer of Pennsylvania." It was two miles of slow match to one fire cracker—poor fire-cracker at that. When he concluded, there did not arise

"—So wild a yell
As all the fiends from Heaven that fell
Had raised the banner cry of hell."

No, there did not. It was too warm to yell—for Asa Packer; so nobody yelled. A few smiled—some in their seats—others at neighboring bars. It pains us to say, that in the buzz that went round all the reporters' tables when the gifted Woodward sat down, the only clearly distinguishable sentence was the conundrum that leaped with a very large H, from desk to desk, "Who in H— is Asa Packer?"

The Situation in Virginia.

A correspondent of the New York Times, who believes Governor Walker to be a sincere Republican, gives the following reasons why his courage is likely soon to be tested:

But political power in Virginia has always been concentrated in the General Assembly, and this body, as first elected, is largely conservative or Democratic; is composed in a large majority of the class of men who, in 1868, made vigorous opposition to the Underwood Constitution, to the Reconstruction acts of Congress, and to Grant and Colfax. They were violently Confederate; they are proscriptively opposed to Republicans and Republicanism; and it is morally impossible for Governor Walker, unless he consents to be their sycophantic tool, to avoid an early breach with them. The Governor elect has, to the party which supported him, a band of good Republicans of influence and practical talents, who will stand by him in any controversy that may arise with his Confederate supporters; and he will always have it in his power, by a manly course of conduct, and by an honest adherence to Republican principles, to draw to his support the regular Republican party of the State.

But you very plainly see that while Republican principles have had a grand moral triumph in Virginia, the real battle of parties has yet to be fought, on this, the most important battle ground of the South. And I pray that the good Republicans of the North may not misjudge our case, or blind themselves to the critical situation of our affairs here. I think they may be perfectly content with the election of Gov. Walker.

The great source of danger and of mischief is the Legislature elect. Upon the complexion of this body depends the question whether Virginia is to be permanently Republican or permanently Democratic—permanently at war or permanently at peace with the Union. It is a body which the Republicans of the North and which the Republican party of Congress should keep their eyes constantly upon; recollecting that the present policy of the opposition, here as elsewhere, is to dissemble their real sentiments and to gain the confidence of the dominant party of the Union in order to betray it.

The Debts of the States.

The indebtedness of the several States at the close of the year 1868 stood as follows:

New England States	$34,853,584
Middle States	74,987,783
Western States	41,464,935
South'n States	127,364,068
Pacific States	4,871,650
Total State debts	$283,541,035

In 1867 8 the several States reduced their debts about $18,000,000, and at the close of the present year will show an equal reduction, and that, too, without any increase of the rate of taxation. The great bulk of the debt is due by a few States thus:

New York	$38,864,000	Missouri	$17,557,000
Pennsylvania	32,800,000	Tennessee	30,000,000
Massachusetts	13,869,000	Louisiana	13,392,000
Virginia	45,120,000	Nor. Carolina	11,433,000
Total in eight States			$218 035,000

This leaves as the indebtedness of the twenty-nine other States about $65,000,000. Minnesota, Iowa, Kentucky, Nebraska and Georgia are free of debt; Delaware, Maryland, Indiana, Wisconsin and Mississippi are virtually free of debt; and in many other States the reductien ranges from 25 to 35 per cent. per annum.

Our Railway Snobs.

Shoddy and petroleum are played out: the railway princes are at the front. A New York letter says:

James Fisk, Jr., has furnished the Erie Railroad offices in the Opera-house in the most gorgeous style. The furniture cost $250,000. Among the furniture are two $1,000 chandeliers, a $1,000 wash basin, several $500 doors, a $500 desk, a $500 office chair, studded with gold nails, and a $1,000 range for cooking.

The clerks will get their meals in the building gratis. The rooms are furnished with splended baths. The iron safe is twelve feet square, and cost an immense amount of money. One entire floor is fitted up with type and presses, and the company intend doing their own printing.

Mr. Degroat is putting an immense bronze casting of a scene in the life of Commodore Vanderbilt, over the entrance to the Hudson River freight depot in St. John Park. It will cost $800,000, and is the lagrest casting in the world. The foundation alone costs $80,000.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon well shed; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to turow out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secret ons, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 325 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 34 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

For Europe.—Captain Louis Hager left the city yesterday, with his family, and designs making a tour of Europe. We wish him a safe and pleasant journey, and hope to hear from him during his absence.

Illegal Liquor Selling.—David Aker made two informations before Alderman Neeper yesterday, charging Mrs. Kirk with selling liquor without license and to miners. Mrs. Kirk was arrested and held for a hearing.

No Damage.—The alarm of fire yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, struck from box 71, was caused by the ignition of a small quantity of oil at Stewart's oil works, Seventeenth ward. The damage was not worthy of mention.

The approaching game between the Baltics, of Wheeling, and the Atlantics, of this city, which comes off at Union Park, Allegheny, on Saturday afternoon, is the great excitement in base ball circles and promises to be one of more than usual interest.

Held for a Hearing.—John Campbell and William Pierce, conductors on the Birmingham Passenger railway, against whom informations were made by the informers for following worldly employment on the Lord's Day, were arrested and held for a hearing on Tuesday of next week.

Railroad to Butler, Pa.—Chief Engineer G. B. Roberts advertises for proposals for grading, masonry and ballasting the Butler branch of the West Penn Railroad from Freeport to Butler. We suppose the long looked for road, connecting Butler with Pittsburgh, can be now counted as certain.

At Glenwood Grove.—Those of our readers who desire to spend the day pleasantly, should remember that the First Annual Excursion of the St. Secelia Silver Coronet Band, of St. Paul's Cathedral, takes place to-day. Glenwood Grove is the point of destination where a most agreeable and pleasant entertainment will be given under the auspices of the band.

Fell Into the Cellar.—Tuesday evening two boys, Philip Bears and Hans Douglass, while attempting to cross a plank laid along the joists on the first floor of the new Merchants and Manufacturers Bank building, Fourth avenue, were suddenly precipitated in the cellar by the overturning of the plank. Douglass had his right arm dislocated and Bears was severely bruised. They were attended by physicians at their homes in the vicinity.

Death of Mrs. Joseph H. Hall.—This estimable lady's sudden death on last Tuesday was announced in Wednesday's issue. A gloom is spread through a large circle of relatives and friends by this unexpected and untimely visitation. The sore stricken husband has the active sympathy of the whole circle of his extensive acquaintance. The last offices of friendship will be paid and the funeral proceed from the family residence on Highland Lane, East Liberty, at three o'clock this afternoon.

Lubbins Again.—E. H. Lubbins, of the Informing Committee of the Mutual Protectionists, while passing along Fourth avenue, met officer Keep sitting in front of Alderman Humbert's office, to whom, it appears, he addressed himself in a manner not altogether satisfactory to Mr. Keep who pulled Lubbins' beard, whereupon the latter repaired to Alderman Neeper's office and made information charging Keep with assault and battery. Keep waived a hearing and gave bail for his appearance at court.

A Select Picnic.—Our readers who can possibly spare the time and wish to spend to-day in delightful recreation, should attend the eighth annual picnic of St. Peter's Conference, St Vincent De Paul's Society, which will be held in Pleasant Valley Grove, Allegheny. The picnic will be one of the best of the season, and as the profits are all to be contributed to the poor, we hope there will be a large attendance, that the sum realized may enable the society to continue their work of charity and benevolence.

Dodging the Revenue.—George Engelke was before United States Commissioner Gamble, yesterday, charged with shipping, and receiving from Columbus, twenty-three casks of vinegar without effacing the stamps thereon. He gave bail for a hearing.

Charles Smidt, residing on East Lane, Allegheny, was also arretsed for manufacturing cigars contrary to the provisions of the Revenue laws. He claims that he only made them for his own use and was not dodging. He gave bail for trial.

Runaway.—Yesterday afternoon a horse attached to a carpenter's wagon, loaded with boards and shingles, belonging to William Kane, of Sono, being left a moment unguarded on Grant street, run off, coming down the street at a terrible rate of speed. Near Hauch's drug store, on the corner of Second avenue, the horse took to the pavement, narrowly escaping running over a little boy setting on the curb. Opposite Ludwig's saloon the wheels came off, and the ruins of the shattered wagon threw the horse to the pavement, without injuring him very much.

Matrimonial.—Yesterday morning a rather prepossessing young German woman called at the Allegheny Mayor's office and made that official acquainted with her griefs. It was the same old story of betrayed confidence and heartless deception. By the aid of a policeman the male principal in the affair, a young German, was brought to the office and after a consultation concluded to settle the difficulty by marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Mayor, in his usual felicitous manner, and the twain departed from the office apparently as happy and contented as the occasion would seem to require.

Man Drowned—Coronor's Inquest.

Joseph Backarl, a young man about twenty-five years of age, who boarded at the corner of West and Second streets, Allegheny, was drowned in the Allegheny river, near the north end of the Hand street bridge, Tuesday evening, while bathing. Backarl, in company with Mr. Benninger, a son of the gentleman with whom the former boarded, went to the river about eight o'clock Tuesday evening to bathe. Mr. Benninger after removing his clothing, plunged into the water where it was between nine and ten feet deep, and on ascertaining this fact he inquired of Backarl if he could swim, to which the latter replied in the negative, when he was informed that it was dangerous for him to go into such deep water. He heeded not the warning, however, and when his companion plunged in a second time he followed, leaping as far as he could into the stream, and, of course, sinking beneath the surface of the water. As soon as he came up he cried for help, and young Benningar went to his assistance. The drowning man caught him by the shoulder and both would have drowned had not Benninger succeeded in extracting himself from his grasp. The drowning man struggled for a moment and then sunk. A number of persons were engaged last night and yesterday morning in dragging the river for the body, which was recovered shortly after dinner yesterday. Coroner Clawson was notified and held an inquest on the body yesterday afternoon, when the jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning. The deceased was unmarried and has no relations living in this country.

Mountain Resorts.

Besides the numerous parties of ladies and gentlemen met with in our recent jaunt to the mountains beyond Uniontown, we found on the summit, in a field contiguous to Snyder's "Summit House," under the sheltering branches of stately forest trees, an encampment of Messrs. W. L. Ledwith, T. J. Duncan, W. H. C. Parkhill and Eli K. Abrams, all from Brownsville. They have their tent, with all needful camp equipage, cots, cooking utensils, etc., here. In all weathers they sleep and cook, making daily expeditions on foot for exercise, curiosity or for forage. They had walked to

Washington Spring	1 mile
Dunbar's Camp	3 miles
Braddock's Grave	3 miles
Pine Knob	5 miles
Fort Necessity	5 miles
Fayette Springs	2½ miles
Delaney's Cave	6 miles

and expected to strike tent and pitch again at Ohio Pile Falls, distant nine miles. We found these young gents all educated, refined, intelligent and models of propriety. We commend their mode of visiting the mountains to other young people. It has some rough points, but is exciting and healthy.

The Work House and County Jail.

In order to have the use of a portion of the material of the old jail in the construction of the new building, the Business Committee of the Prison Board, which is composed of the Commissioners, Sheriff and Mayor, have requested the Work House Committee to make arrangements for fifty prisoners now confined in the jail. If this request is complied with it will be a saving of several thousand dollars to the county in the matter of the material referred to, as well as a saving to the Work House fund, as they have now a large number of hands employed at high wages, performing work which might be done by the prisoners at a cost of their boarding only. The Committee having in charge the erection of the Work House are willing to receive the prisoners if the arrangements for their accommodation can be made, and for that purpose they have invited the Business Committee of the Prison Board to accompany them on a visit to the Work House to see what arrangements are necessary. They will leave the Allegheny Depot on the West Pennsylvania Railroad at nine o'clock this morning.

The Connellsville Railroad.

The two bridges across Dunbar Creek, damaged by the Sunday storm, were repaired with the usual promptitude of the Connellsville Railroad Company—only the afternoon train on Monday failed. We came ourselves on Tuesday morning safely over the repaired bridges; the main track between Connellsville and this city was uninjured, and is a well settled, well ballasted and pleasant road for the traveler. Passengers going to the mountains will find the route a good one. We found the conductors all we could desire; careful, courteous to passengers, vigilant, giving their whole time diligently to the proper discharge of every duty. This testimony we doubt not is due to all the conductors on every train; our personal observation, however, was of Mr. Turner, on the train hence to Connellsville, and Mr. Gray, on the train thence to Uniontown. These gentlemen we regard as model conductors.

Debate in New Castle.

Quite an interesting debate is now in progress in New Castle, Lawrence county, this State, between Rev. D. X. Junkin, D. D., of that town, and Rev. J. R. W. Sloan, D. D., of Allegheny, on the religious amendment of the Constitution of the United States. The debate commenced in White Hall on Tuesday evening, and was resumed last evening at half-past seven o'clock.

The matter of amending the Constitution so as to recognize the Lord Jesus Christ as the "Prince of the Kings of the Earth" has excited considerable attention, especially for the last few years. It is not at all likely that the amendment asked for by some religionists throughout the country will soon be inserted in the organic law of the nation. But the well known ability of the contestants, who are now debating the question in New Castle, has attracted considerable attention, and the audiences are quite large and respectable.

An Invitation Declined.

Some invitations are accepted with pleasure, and are always welcome, while there are others just the reverse. Elizabeth Butler received one of the latter class yesterday. She had in an unlucky hour aroused the ire of Ellen Caughey. Yesterday Ellen called upon her with an invitation to a pugilistic encounter. Elizabeth was not in training, and accordingly politely but emphatically declined the invitation, whereupon Ellen became exceedingly obstreperous, calling her all sorts of names, threatening to take her life on the first opportunity, and winding up with an excited harangue, and an attempt to break in the door of Elizabeth's domicil with huge boulders, flung against it. Elizabeth, alarmed at the fierce demonstrations of her Amazonian opponent, fled to Alderman Taylor's office, where she lodged an information against her for assault. A policeman is on the lookout for Ellen.

A Collision, But Nobody Hurt.

Yesterday morning about nine o'clock, Mr. David Owens, a dairyman of Lower St. Clair township, and his little daughter, aged about twelve years, were driving a milk wagon along Liberty street, near the Grain Elevator, and attempted to cross the railroad track in advance of an approaching train on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, which was just rounding the course to enter the Depot. The result was a collision, as might have been expected. The engine, which was moving with the tender in front, was thrown from the track by the concussion, but continued its course, bearing the wagon around and carrying it along. The steam had been shut off on the instant the collision occurred, but the momentum carried the wagon, tender, engine and train about fifty feet forward. The erratic power, in its course, demolished a lamp post beside the watchman's house, and then forcibly moved the house about ten feet away from its foundations, without, however, wrecking it. By this time it was stopped and the extent of the damage was ascertained. Miraculously as it seemed, the driver of the wagon had escaped without injury, while the little girl, by a fortunate exit from the rear, had dropped upon the ground, and escaped with but a few slight bruises. The horse was perfectly able to trot off briskly after all was over. The wagon, however, was no more. Deprived of four wheels, the shafts, and a part of its covering, it remained only as a wreck of its former appearance. About half an hour's work with two other engines and a gang of laborers served to replace the engine upon the track again, and all taace of the accident was removed save the watchman's house, which will be replaced in its old position. It is quite likely Mr. Owens will not attempt to get ahead of another locomotive.

Charged with Libel.

Frank Welsh made information before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, against Robert Graham, John J. McGregor and H. Bucher, charging them with circulating a malicious, defamatory libel of, and concerning him, thereby subjecting him to scorn and contempt. In support of the information, it is alleged that the defendants signed and made affidavit before Alderman Albeitz to a paper setting forth that they, as an election board authorized by the Republican County Committee, on the 31st of May, 1869, had assembled at the usual place of holding elections in the Tenth Ward, city of Pittsburgh, for the purpose of conducting elections for delegates to the Republican County Conventions to be held in June, 1869, but that they were prevented from discharging their duties by Frank Welsh and others, who, in an intoxicated condition, entered the room in which they had assembled, and by threats and violence drove them out of the same.

The deponent further alleges this paper was presented before the Committee on Credentials at one of the conventions, and that by it the question of the rights of certain persons to seats as delegates to that body were decided.

Mr. Welsh denies the allegations contained in the paper, hence the information. The accused were arrested and after a hearing gave bail for their appearance at Court.

Washington and Jefferson College.

The Commencement exercises at Washington and Jefferson College take place at Washington during the first week in August. The citizens are manifesting a decided interest in the affairs of the College, since the trustees have decided to locate it at that point, and the Commencement promises to be of a highly interesting character. Following is the order of exercises:

Wednesday, Aug. 4th, at 4 o'clock, P. M.—Quarter-century address to the Washington class of 1844, by Rev. John T. Brownlee, of West Middletown, Pa.

Wednesday evening August 4th, at 7 o'clock —Address to the Literary Societies by Jas. M'Cosh, D. D., L.L. D., President of Princeton College. After which a social entertainment will be given to the Alumni visitors, &c., at the Female Seminary by the citizens of Washington.

Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock—Address to the Jefferson class of 1839, by the Rev. A. C. M'Clelland, of Pittsburgh.

Hard at Work.

The Snyder family, a numerous company, hereabouts, are just now engaged in litigation on an extensive scale. Every branch of the family, male and female seems to be represented. The immediate cause of this outburst was a suit brought before Alderman Koenig a few days ago, against a Snyder for selling ice to Mr. Herbst, of the Ordinary, on Sunday. This developed a latent aptitude and desire for litigation which is now in process of vigorous development under the auspices of Alderman Lynch, who has at present seven cases awaiting his magisterial decision, wherein the principal members of the Snyder family appear as prosecutors and defendants, in the most bewildering manner, totally beyond the comprehension of ordinary mortals. The Alderman at last succeeded in extricating one of the cases from the confusion yesterday and achieved a hearing of it, but reserved his decision until his mind recovered from the unwonted strain consequent upon this mental feat. The others will also be heard whenever the official's mind is cleared.

The Pittsburgh Female College.

We acknowledge the receipt of the fourteenth annual catalogue of the Pittsburgh Female College for 1868-9. It is a beautiful specimen of typography from the clever hands of Bakewell & Marthens, printers. The College, which is justly esteemed as one of the very best educational institutes for young ladies in the country, is now undergoing extensive improvements, and will be thoroughly refitted and refurnished for the Fall term, which commences Sept. 1st next. Rev. Dr. Pershing, President of the faculty, is determined that the usefulness of the College shall increase with each year of its existence, and judging from what he has accomplished in the past, we are confident that an even greater glory is in reserve for the institution in the future.

In a Critical Condition.—Mr. Roebling, the distinguished bridge builder, who is so well known to our citizens, is reported by the New York Mail of Saturday to be again in a very critical condition. It will be remembered that a short time since Mr. R. had his foot and ankle crushed between a ferry boat and dock in Brooklyn.

DRY GOODS.

New Goods Just Opened at William Semple's, Nos. 180 and 182 Federal Street, Allegheny.

No name is more intimately associated with the dry goods trade, and none more suggestive of reasonable prices and choice selections than that of Mr. William Semple, Nos. 180 and 182 Federal street, Allegheny city. The judicious system in which he manages his business, always being up to the outside requirements of his customers with new goods, and taking care that his patrons receive the full worth of their money in every article purchased, has secured for him a popularity with shoppers which enables him to transact, even in the dullest times, a large share of trade. It has long been an object of remark that in all the seasons, every month and week of the year, this house presents the bustle peculiar to good times, and both its wholesale and retail departments are thronged with purchasers. The simple secret is that the public know how to protect themselves and will direct their favors where they can be best favored themselves. The popularity of the house has been pretty well earned through long years of well conducted business, and the proprietor, in the present prosperity of his extensive establishment, may feel that next to his own energy and enterprise, the success is due to the consistent course of offering good goods at reasonably small profits—a system which will ever secure appreciation and endorsement. But the special point we desire to reach, is to direct the attention of our readers to the double column announcement of new goods at Mr. Semple's, which appears this morning on our fifth page. The goods arrived and being received are all fresh and seasonable, embracing many new patterns and styles, which will certainly please our lady readers. The prices are marked down to figures lower than any that have been offered this season. We bespeak a visit to the establishment from our friends who may desire either to purchase at retail or wholesale, and assure them that the half has not been advertised of the advantages offered. Courteous salesmen and lady clerks are in constant attendance to wait on those who may call, whether to look at the goods merely, or to purchase.

Fifth Avenue.

The action of Councils in changing the name of Pennsylvania avenue to Fifth avenue, was well enough so far as it went, but one very important matter has been neglected, and as it is the occasion of a great deal of annoyance and inconvenience, it should be attended to at once. We refer to the numbering of the houses on that thoroughfare. The numbers on old Fifth street, between Smithfield and Grant streets, were never properly arranged, and have been a source of grievous vexation to hunnreds of strangers. Since the extension of the street, or rather the name to another street, which was originally numbered from the terminus of the old one, the annoyance is almost equally as great to citizens as to strangers, as we find on the street corresponding numbers at points half a mile distant from each other. Whose duty is it to have the houses properly numbered?

Still Progressing.

The great closing out sale at T. Tobias', No. 13 St. Clair street, of fine ready made clothing, is still progressing and will continue till the first of August. Mr. Tobias is now east making extensive preparations for fall stock and also a fine stock of piece goods for his new merchant tailoring department, which will soon be completed. Mr. Tobias is making very extensive alterations in his store for fall, and intends selling better goods this coming season and cheaper than any other house. He is now buying all his goods for cash which enables him to sell cheaper than ever. Go there and see the immense sacrifice in prices. He has sold cheap the whole season, but is now going to sell cheaper still. Don't fail to call and see him. Convince yourself what money you can save by going immediately to T. Tobias', No. 13 St. Clair street, and buying clothing.

A New Restaurant.

Mr. James Nicholson, of whose fitness for the enterprise several years' acquaintance gives us the highest confidence, has fitted up with excellent taste the room No. 24, Federal street, Allegheny, midway between the bridge and the railroad depot, and is this day opening the same to public patronage. The situation is well chosen for the many who pass and repass it daily. They cannot fail to be suited, and a trial will convince all that Mr. Nicholson is the right man in the right place.

An Honest Individual.

The Secretary of the Treasury yesterday received the following letter:

DEAR SIR: Enclosed please find four hundred and seventy dollars. This is not conscience money, but, doing a liberal business in a Pennsylvania town, and by careful management having made it pay, I have thought that it would be injurious to my business to have my full income published in our village paper, therefore I have paid a part of my income tax to the Collector, and the balance I send direct to you.

Economy is Wealth.

It is the duty of all heads of families to economize in all things, always giving your family plenty to eat. Among the most needful things in a family, for both economy and health is good bread. You should always see that the bread you buy is full weight and made of good flour. To be sure of these two things, ask your grocer for Marvin's Bread and Crackers. Marvin, at No. 91 Liberty, gives the best weight and baked of the best flour of any bakery in the city. Remember the name, Marvin.

Ten Days.—The entire stock of J. W. Barker & Co, 59 Market and 20 Sixth streets, must be closed out. Buyers of Dry Goods, both wholesale and retail, will find this a rare chance for securing bargains. The stock is complete, all new and fresh, to be closed out, as the estate of the senior member of the firm (deceased) must be settled by the 1st day of August. J. W. BARKER, JR., Administrator.

Gentlemen—Take your lady friends to Youngson & Co., corner of Virgin alley and Smithfield street, for your ice cream. They charge the same for pure cream as others do for milk.

Every article offered for sale at Moorhead's fancy trimming store, No. 81 Market street, is warranted to be as represented. No inferior articles are brought into the store, and purchasers can rely upon what they buy at this house.

Constitution Water is a certain cure for Diabetes and all diseases of the Kidneys. For sale by all Druggists. TTHS:T.

Great Reduction for Cash Only.

Owing to the death of the senior member of the firm, and the necessity of settling the estate immediately, we propose to make a great reduction in the prices of our entire stock of dry goods, commencing the sale on Monday, July 19th, and continuing until the first day of August. Many of the goods will be sold at much less than cost, and will comprise fall and winter, as well as summer goods. Those desirous of obtaining some of the greatest bargains ever offered in dry goods should not neglect this sale at the storerooms of J. W. Barker & Co., 59 Market street and 20 Sixth (formerly St, Clair) street. J. W. BARKER, JR., Administrator.

Pure Ice Cream, made from pure country milk. Youngson & Co., Smithfield street, one square from Fifth avenue.

Wonderful.—Henry W. Burr, No. 49 West 14th street, while on a visit to the West, was attacked with severe illness from drinking impure water. Life was despaired of, and it was thought that he must die. His wife was immediately sent for, and in a day or two was at his bedside. Having herself seen the beneficial results from the use of PLANTATION BITTERS, she insisted upon their being administered to him, which was done, in quantities prescribed by the attending physician. The result was almost as if by magic, and in one-half hour from the time they were given her husband was out of danger, and by a moderate use of them three or four times a day, he was soon able to resume his journey to his home. This is but one case of many thousands that we know of.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T.F.

Beautiful Faces and Hands are soon obtained by using Milk of Violets. It is entirely different from any other skin preparations, and purely innocent. Ladies using it exclaim:

"As long as I can get it I'll never powder."

Sold by druggists and fancy goods dealers.

Notice.—Persons indebted to the concern of J. W. Barker & Co., are requested to make immediate payment. Also, parties having claims against the said firm will please render them previous to the 1st day of August.

J. W. BARKER, JR., Administrator.
